ROME, Sept. 24.—Again deferring definite action which the world had looked for him to take, Premier Benito Mussolini today cast out what many believed to be a hint he would accept a mandate over Ethiopia as part of a settlement of the East African crisis.

Il Duce presided over an important three-hours session of his cabinet, after which a cryptic communique was issued. The only definite action taken was calling of another cabinet session for Saturday, indicating Premier Mussolini is waiting for the League of Nations to take the next step.

Premier Benito Mussolini and the League of Nations matched wits today, each apparently cautiously waiting for the other to move next in the East African war crisis.

Today's developments:
ROME—Important cabinet session held at which Il Duce discussed possibility of league's applying sanctions against him, but only definite action announced was calling of another session for Saturday.

GENEVA—Council's committee of four unanimously adopted resolutions regarding Ethiopia, recording its failure to effect a settlement between Italy and Ethiopia.
But council will not get it until Thursday, apparently hoping Premier Mussolini would make next move.

PANEWC OBSERVES

The temperature crept down closer to the freezing point last evening when a mark of 38 registered, just six degrees above the danger mark. Light frosts occurred in some sections, but they were not of a damaging nature. A year ago the mercury stood over 90 for a three-day period, and for several nights the weather was extremely warm, the thermometer registering between 59 and 66.

Juvenile reading at the Free Public Library these days seems on the increase. In August 5,894 fiction and non-fiction books were circulated.

While frost has not as yet been evidence to any extent in this section, leaves are beginning to fall from the trees in large numbers.
Autoists should recognize that falling leaves are a menace to traffic and proceed cautiously over streets or highways that are partially covered with them.

BAER-LOUIS BATTLE ATTENDANCE TO PASS HUNDRED THOUSAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—With frantic, hectic box office men admitting that more than 100,- 000 tickets had already been sold, Max Baer and Joe Louis, principals in the most dramatic heavyweight fight of all time, headed this morning for their rendezvous before the scales where they will weigh in for tonight's inter-racial brawl at the Yankee Stadium.

Baer, grumpily denying that his right hand was injured, hadn't far to go and hence was the last to leave for the boxing commission offices.

Receding Betting Odds
A rapidly receding choice in the betting at odds around 2½ to 1, the former champion arrived in town last night and put up at a midtown hotel, his demeanor being hardly that of the rollicking playboy. It was evident that Baer resented a situation that had made the great Negro puncher a general favorite.

Announce Campaign To Raise $40,000 For Jameson Hospital

Of October—Fred L.

Directors of Jameson Memorial Hospital have made a thorough study of the growing volume of charity patient care and have decided to ask the citizens of New Castle to join them in a money raising campaign to maintain this vital community need through 1936 and 1937. Hospital directors are unanimous in their belief that it is better at this time to ask for subscriptions to meet current indebtedness and two years budgeted charity, thereby making it unnecessary to have another campaign a year hence.

New Castle is exceptionally fortunate in possession of a practically debt-free million-dollar hospital that has not called upon the general community for financial assistance other than in a small debt campaign four years ago when $60,- 000.00 was raised. Throughout the country there are few cities possessing of hospital facilities equal to those enjoyed by citizens of New

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24.—Donning its best bib and tucker, the American Legion today staged its annual "big show"—the gigantic parade of massed Legion units
—as St. Louis and the surrounding territory took a holiday to enjoy this most colorful of all the events of the Legion's seventeenth annual convention.

It was a legal as well as an atmospheric holiday. For Gov. Guy B.
Park, by formal proclamation, set aside the day for Missouri to enjoy the spectacle. Business houses closed or operated on skeleton staffs to permit employees to view the parade. Long before parade time, however, every vantage point along the route was occupied and the streets were packed to the suffocating point.

Meantime, the serious behind-the-scenes business of the convention got underway.

Seek To Solve Problems
While the tramp of marching feet, still keeping perfect step after seventeen years, and the blare of band music filled the air, the Legion's committees set about winnowing through the mass of official business that must be finished by Thursday.
And the partisans of candidates for national commander to succeed
Frank Belgrano, Sr., of San Francisco, went into huddles in an effort to solve the election problem.

Nine avowed candidates were in the field when the convention opened. By this afternoon, however, the

Three Youths Held For Wetzel Death

One Youth Is Said To Have Confessed To Beating Ad-

(International News Service)
ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 24.—Three Allentown youths, one of whom was said to have confessed beating Charles E. Wetzel, 45-year-old advertising executive, were held by authorities today in connection with the death of the former United Gas Improvement company official.

Charges of robbery and assault were placed against the three youths following their purported statement that Wetzel was beaten and robbed in an Allentown alleyway. But all three denied any knowledge of how the victim met his death. Wetzel's body was found near a hobo "jungle" in the Little Lehigh river last Saturday morning.

The three held were Roderick E.
Miller, 22; Daniel Kemmerer, 25, and Michael Cioeco, 20. Miller was quoted by police as saying he assaulted Wetzel and then robbed him of his wallet and watch.

Federated Club Women Battle Amusement Tax On Club Memberships

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—Ired over being classified with "circuses, sideshows and other amusements," leaders of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women today began a campaign to force the attorney general's office to exempt their club dues from the state amusement tax.

Anger of the club women was greatly increased when while being taxed as an "amusement," their organization of 50,000 women was requested to aid in state and federal relief projects.
The embattled club women decided to hurl their feminine protests at the erstwhile adamant attorney general's office after a meeting of the Berks County Federation when a state revenue department representative explained their club dues were subject to the tax as of last July 22.
"We do not object to paying a tax on any entertainment or project for raising funds although our funds are used for the most part in local welfare work," Mrs. John W. Phillips of Pittsburgh, the president, said.
"But we do object to being put in entertainment groups since for 40 years the federation has been a pioneer educational, civic and welfare organization."
Mrs. Phillips said the women expect a ruling by October 1 for their state convention in Erie.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—A prayer for peace was raised today by Patrick Cardinal Hayes, personal representative of Pope Pius XI to the seventh National Eucharistic Congress, at the first of five solemn pontifical masses to be celebrated at this outstanding gathering of Cath-

"May this congress prove a mighty prayer that the menacing clouds of war may be dissipated by the radipeace," said Cardinal Hayes, celebrant of the mass.

He read the 34th verse, eighth chapter of John:
"A new commandment I give unto you; that you love one another
... by this all men know that you are my disciples if you have love for one another."

Archbishop O. P. McNicholas, of Cincinnati, delivered the sermon at the service in public hall, crowded again today as it was last night by 20,000 of the Catholic church lead-

Miners Issue Ultimatum In Wage Dispute

Declare Operators Must Ac-

Wage Offer

STRIKE SETTLEMENT
PARLEY CONTINUES

Slight Difference On Rate Of Pay Holds Up Adjustment

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—
Still deadlocked, the subcommittee of four attempting to end the strike of 400,000 bituminous coal miners, recessed for lunch after a three-hour session and will resume their deliberations at 2:30 p. m., EST.

Miners' representatives outside the conference said they understood the operators were yielding in the face of a union ultimatum and that a settlement might be reached before night.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—
The United Mine Workers
today served an ultimatum upon bituminous coal operators that they must accept the miners' last wage offer, or the strike of 400,- 000 men which began Monday morning will continue.
"Take it or leave it," was the message John L. Lewis, leading chief of the mine workers, sent to a meeting of a subcommittee of two miners' officials and two operators which met at ten o'clock this morning in an effort to settle the strike.

Slight Difference

Only one and one-half cents separates the miners and operators and threatens to prolong a strike affecting more than 2,500,000 persons, the most serious walkout since the Roosevelt administration took office. The miners are demanding nine cents a ton for piece workers and the operators are offering seven and one-half cents.

"These mutual admiration societies are getting us nowhere," said the veteran miners' chief angrily as he paced his room at the hotel where the subcommittee is in session. "They are getting monotonous to us."

While the deadlock continued scores of miners' representatives and representatives of the operators gathered in the hotel lobby awaiting word from the meeting room.

Hope For Settlement
The operators' representatives declined to comment upon Lewis' ultimatum. They still expressed the

MINERS IDLE SECOND DAY

District Mines Out Of Operation

Two Hundred Thousand Tri-State Miners Await Scale Settlement

'CAPTIVE' MINES ARE ALSO IDLE

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—For the second day, the bituminous coal fields of Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Eastern Ohio today remained virtually completely tied up as more than 200,000 miners awaited further word of the wage negotiations in Washington.

Peace and quiet pervaded the region although scattered threats were heard to hurl picket lines against smaller independent operators planning to move their reserve stocks.

No Attempt To Work
With stocks sufficient to last six weeks or more above ground, none of the operators made any attempt to resume work until an accord is reached in Washington.

William J. Patton, vice president of District No. 5 of the United Mine Workers of America, said even tippie repairs had been halted at the request of union leaders. Only maintenance and repair men were allowed to enter the workings.

Union officials said about 200,000 miners were idle in the tri-state region under an order effective at midnight last Sunday.

"Captive mines," those whose entire outputs are used by the steel and iron companies which own them, although non-unionized, also continued to remain closed.

LEAGUE AWAITS FURTHER MOVES BY MUSSOLINI

fan cabinet meeting in Rome and, apparently, awaited a new conciliatory gesture from Premier Mussolini.

The league council's committee of five, which had been appointed to reach a settlement acceptable to both Italy and Ethiopia, today completed its work and unanimously adopted a report simply setting forth what it had tried and failed to accomplish.

The report will go to the council Thursday, containing no recommendations whatever. It will be entirely up to the council to decide on the merits of the case, and to decide whether the time is opportune to try a new method of conciliation, or whether to record Ethiopia's acceptance of the committee's report and Italy's rejection.

The council's ultimate decision undoubtedly will take into account today's happenings in Rome and the result of the cabinet session there.

In the event Ethiopia's acceptance and Italy's rejection are recorded, Italy would have no "legal" right, under the covenant, to declare war on Ethiopia. Sanctions would follow in due time if Italy should open hostilities.

The committee's report adopted today will be made public tomorrow. As an annex it contains the "observations" of Baron Pompeo Aloisi, chief Italian delegate, made in reply to Chairman Salvador De Madariaga.

Mussolini Ponders Action
ROME, Sept. 24.—Premier Benito Mussolini today discussed with his cabinet the action Italy will take in the event the league of nations orders sanctions against her when and if Italian armies march into Ethiopia.

Il Duce met with his cabinet at an important session which lasted nearly three hours. Afterward a communiqué was issued stating Premier Mussolini referred to the possibility of development of the situation on the basis of certain articles of the league covenant, and the attitude Italy would assume, according to circumstances.

Despite the caution reflected here, Il Duce continued his preparations for war. The cabinet passed a decree under which all males between the ages of 21 and 34 who previously had been declared medically unfit for army service must undergo a new and more thorough examination. This followed closed creation of a $234,000,000 war fund.

A new special meeting of the cabinet was called for Saturday which will be the fourth in 15 days.

The communiqué declared Italy did not make any "counter-proposals" at Geneva in turning down the league's proposed settlement.

British Stand Firm
London, Sept. 24.—The British cabinet met in an important two-hour session today to discuss the Italian crisis today, and was understood to have approved in full the firm action the government has taken in the dispute to date.

Every member of the cabinet was present excepting only Capt. Anthony Eden, minister for league of nations affairs, who was in Geneva. The cabinet was understood to have received a complete report from Capt. Eden regarding recent Geneva moves in the crisis.

As is usual in the case of British cabinet sessions, no official statement was issued regarding any action taken. Public interest in the session was nonetheless acute how- ever, and large crowds assembled in narrow Downing street to watch the ministers arrive at Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's residence.

"Door Still Open"
GENEVA, Sept. 24.—League of Nations tension over the Italian-Ethiopian crisis lessened considerably today as a result of the Italian cabinet meeting in Rome.

League diplomats, reading what Premier Mussolini had discussed the attitude to be adopted by Italy "according to circumstances" felt generally that the next move was now up to the council and that the door to further negotiations still was open.

Il Duce's failure to publicly commit himself to any new positive action also helped ease the crisis, since many looking to today's Rome meeting, had foreseen a possible new challenge from Italy.

OPEN TRIAL OF SENATOR CLARK

hear the records played in court before receiving the case for deliberation late this week. President Judge William H. Hargess of Dauphin county ordered the jurors locked up for the duration of the trial.

Four Counts.
Four counts, two of extortion and two charging malfeasance in office, are contained in the indictment against the veteran senate leader. They carry maximum penalties upon conviction of a $1000 fine and three years imprisonment on each charge.

Against this threat Oliver K. Eaton, Pittsburgh attorney hired for the defense, was expected to introduce testimony stressing other meetings between Margiotti and Clark prior to the "speak-o-phone" session. Although Eaton refused to reveal his plans, it was indicated the defense would train its guns on "Margiotti and Kalodner and their part in the purported earlier discussions."

Approximately a third of the Republican membership of the senate, all members of the important appropriations committee headed by Clark, was represented in the audience that jammed the courtroom in the ancient red-brick courthouse. Most of them held either commonwealth or defense subpoenas. In addition, several score other "hired officials and state political leaders of various shades of factionalism were present."

Counter Charge Made

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—The counter charge that State Senator William H. Clark was offered a judicial appointment, state insurance business and jobs for his political influence by Harry E. Kalodner, then secretary of the governor, was hurled here today as the misdeeds trial of the Chester Republican got underway.

The accusation was made by Oliver K. Eaton, chief counsel for Clark in his address to the jury. It followed by a few minutes an opening statement in which District Attorney Karl E. Richards charged Clark with "offering of influence in return for his legislative influence in re- trade his liquor store insurance business."

Eaton said he would prove that Clark was offered an appointment as judge in Chester county, political patronage and the liquor store insurance business if he would administer a bill to "trap" Mayor William M. McVair of Pittsburgh, from office. Kalodner's purported "offer" Eaton declared, was reported by Clark to his Republican colleagues in the senate.

Cognizant of the circumstances, the Republican senate leaders told Clark to "see how far they will go" by attending further meetings with Kalodner and Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, Eaton asserted.

Castle. Most cities that do have such hospitals have built them from funds raised at great sacrifice on the part of citizens generally. David Jameson's magnificent memorial has spared New Castle people an immense capital investment and the management of the hospital has spared the community a burdensome operating deficit when quality of service is considered of all worthy hospitals that in meeting an ever increasing charity demand it is impossible to make ends meet. Conditions have been such for more than five years past that an unusual number of the hospital sick are full charity and many are unable to pay more than a fraction of their needed hospital care.

"Jameson Memorial Hospital is not in any sense a money-making institution," stated Fred L. Rentz, president and chairman of the Board of Directors. "Its first purpose is to give those in need of hospital care the best modern hospital service we can create. If these sick people are able to pay full hospital rates they are required to do so. If they are able to pay only part of the cost, then such payment is expected. If they are outright charity then they are given just the same care as the others, for nothing."

The hospital Board of Directors proposes to inaugurate its campaign during the last week of October. Organization will start about the first of the month. Fred L. Rentz has been drafted as unanimous choice for General Chairman of the campaign.

Pagley Guilty On Part Of Indictment

Rocco Pagley, who has been on trial at Lawrence County court on a charge of felonious assault and battery, was found guilty on the second count of the indictment, which charged aggravated assault and battery. It was claimed that during an argument he had drawn a knife and cut the blond on the hip.

The ladies still smoke, but it's "went. You seldom see one smoke unless she wishes to smoke."

Deaths of the Day

Thomas Anderson Lovell.

Thomas Anderson Lovell, aged 85 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. A. Cook, 718½ Croton avenue, this morning at 9:40 o'clock.

He was born in Venango county on September 22, 1850, son of William and Jeannette Anderson Lovell. He had resided in New Castle for the past fourteen years.

He leaves five daughters, Mrs. Jeannette Phipps, of Grove City, Mrs. E. A. Cook and Mrs. R. R. Cook, of New Castle, Mrs. L. M. Dietrich and Mrs. D. M. Hitchcock, of Franklin, and Mrs. R. O. Eakin, of Eminton; and son, Howard Lovell, of Franklin. His wife, Mrs. Alice Quistson Lovell, died 21 years ago.

Short funeral services will be conducted from Mrs. E. A. Cook's home, 718½ Croton avenue, on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and further services will follow at 3 o'clock in the Scrub Grass Stone Presbyterian church, near Eminton, of which Mr. Lovell was a member. Interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Carlo Pusnik.

Carlo Pusnik, aged 56 years, well known merchant and butcher of Bessemer, died suddenly at his North Beaver township home on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Although he had not been well for eight years he had been around as usual yesterday and his death came as a shock to his many friends.

He was a member of St. Anthony's church of Bessemer, the S. N. P. J., and the German Beneficial society of New Castle.

Surviving are his wife and the following children, Carlo, Jr., Pete, Julia, August and Martha, at home. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

Time Of Funeral.

Funeral services for Mrs. Marietta Wakefield Veach, widow of John Emery Veach, who passed away at her home near New Bedford on Monday, will be conducted from the late residence on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made at the Veach cemetery, East of Chubb.

Mrs. Veach was born at Hubbard on February 7, 1847, being in her 89th year at the time of her death. She was a resident of the New Bedford community for 35 years.

The following daughters and sons survive: Mrs. Minnie Cox and Mrs. Mae McFarland of New Castle; Mrs. Anna Clappison of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Edna Lehart and Mrs. Margaret Comfort of Canton, O.; John W. S. Morton and Jesse L. Veach at home. The following grandchildren: Etta Keelen, Jess Cox, Gertrude Shackle, Charles McFarland of New Castle, John and Earl Clappison of Detroit, Lewis McFarland of Portsmouth, O., and Ben Comfort of Canton, O., survive, as do five great-grandchildren, June and Jessica Cox of New Castle, Beverly and Patricia McFarland of Portsmouth, O., Shirley Ann Clappison of Detroit.

Time Of Capitoia Funeral.

Funeral mass for the late Peter P. Capitoia, of 138 Leasus avenue, will be celebrated on Friday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Vitus church. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Isabel Zimmerman.

Mrs. Isabel Zimmerman, aged 80 years, widow of W. H. H. Zimmerman, died at her home, 136 East Washington street, on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, after a long illness.

Mrs. Zimmerman was born in Mercer county on September 19, 1855, daughter of John S. and Elizabeth Wadsworth Nelson. She had resided here for many years and was a member of the Central Presbyterian church and Sunday school.

Surviving are one daughter, Nora E., at home; one son, Preston, of Mercer; two grandchildren, one great-grandchild; two sisters, Mrs. A. J. McCaskey, of Grove City, and Mrs. Maggie Zahnizer, of Jefferson township, and one brother, D. W. Nelson, of Grove City.

Funeral services will be conducted on Thursday at 11 a. m. from the residence, with Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, in charge. Interment will be made in Mercer cemetery, at Mercer.

Funeral Of Mrs. Reeder.

Funeral services for Mrs. Arthur Reeder of Morris street were conducted on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, with Rev. Samuel C. Baker, pastor of Clifton Plats Mission, and Rev. Reed Walker in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bogle sang three beautiful hymns as a part of the services. "Looking This Way," "No Disappointments in Heaven," and "The Last Mile of the Way." Pallbearers were Orrie McConnell, Jed Miller, Roy Miller, Fred Driver, George Stewart and Harry Stewart. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Time Of Funeral.

Funeral mass for Patricia Brice, of 101 Milton street, will be celebrated at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning from St. Mary's church. The funeral party will leave the home of Dr. P. J. Brice, 36 North Jefferson street, at 9:30 a. m. Interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Funeral Of Mrs. Pontius.

Funeral services were conducted for Mrs. Gertrude Pontius at her late residence on Allen street, on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. P. E. Carson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Lowellville, O., was in charge.

The pallbearers were: Jack Thomas, Ezra Pontius, Calvin Miller, Everett McCormick, William Gallagher and Herbert Rose. Interment was made in Lowellville cemetery.

special train with Cardinal Hayes from New York. Smith will address the general assembly of the congress tonight on the topic—"Communist or Communism?"

Although Smith has steadfastly declined to discuss politics here since his arrival due to the solemn nature of the meeting, he is expected to devote his address tonight to a discussion of the power of religion and its influence upon democracy.

James A. Farley, postmaster general and personal representative of President Roosevelt, brought the chief executive's greetings to the congress last night at a civic reception in public hall for Cardinal Hayes. Farley read President Roosevelt's letter, which said, in part:

"Religion aids all because it teaches that we are all children of the one heavenly father and that the same heavenly father aids us. Without it no nation can long endure. It is most significant that from our beginnings to this day we have unfailingly championed its free exercise, and encouraged it by the protection of our laws and our institutions."

prospects had narrowed down to two—J. Ray Murphy, of Iowa and Harry W. Colmery of Kansas.

None of the others had officially withdrawn but privately those in the "insider" of Legion affairs said the real contest will lie between these two.

"Murphy Has Edge"

Both have been prominent and active in Legion activities since the foundation of the organization here sixteen years ago. According to the dopesters, many of whom could show the national political conventions a trick or two, Murphy was considered to have a slight but definite advantage in the running.

None, however, would commit themselves to flat prediction and from all quarters it was conceded that the contest for the national commandership would be fast and furious up until the ballots are counted on Thursday.

Committee members also put in a heavy day, although there was no general convention session today. The resolution committee, in particular, was faced with a back-breaking problem. By tomorrow night, it must formulate and define the Legion's attitude on such matters as immediate bonus payment, national defense, rehabilitation of veterans, communism and radicalism, and the educational program of the Legion.

BROOKS IS GUILTY ON SECOND COUNT

In the case of the commonwealth against Elmer Brooks, who was tried at Lawrence county court on a charge of larceny, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty on the first count, charging larceny, but guilty on the second count, charging receiving stolen goods. Brooks claimed he had bought some aluminum which had been stolen from the Moravia Street Auto Wrecking company.

Lions Induct Three Members At Luncheon

Formal Installation Features Weekly Meeting; Group To Make Trip

Three new members were added to the membership of the Lions club in a short induction service which President William D. Cobau and other club officers conducted at the club's weekly luncheon today.

The group installed included G. Earl Williams, John Walter and Walter Dietterle.

Routine committee reports and reports of future activities occupied most of the time following the induction. The club had an average of 86.2 per cent during August, it was reported. Twenty-two members had 100 per cent records for the month.

Headed by former District Governor Ezra D. Marvin and President Cobau, nearly a dozen Lions will motor to Pittsburgh tonight to attend the Charter Night dinner program which the club will hold jointly with Mt. Oliver clubs in the new Oakland and Webster Hall. Marvin is to be the evening's toastmaster and Melvin Jones, founder and secretary general of Lions International, will be one of the principal speakers.

hope that a settlement could be reached before nightfall and the strike order cancelled by midnight. Any terms agreed upon by the subcommittee will be submitted at once to the full committee of sixteen which in turn, if it approved, would pass the agreement on to the joint conference of 56 operators and 56 miners' representatives. The union is ready to telegraph orders cancelling the strike at once and sending the men back to work if a settlement is reached.

McGrady Confers

Edwin F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, who discussed the strike situation with President Roosevelt, again conferred with representatives of both sides this morning. But the government's ace conciliator in labor controversies did not enter the room where the committee of four sat deadlocked.

He reiterated that under no circumstances would the president personally intervene to end the strike. Reports from all fields today declared the strike 100 per cent effective, with the exception of some 2,500 non-union miners and declared no disorders had occurred anywhere.

QUOTA CLUB HEARS ABOUT PSYCHOLOGIST

Something entirely off the ordinary line of civic speakers was presented to the Quota Club Monday night, in the Elks Club, when R. D. Rosenberger spoke on "The Thee In Me." The address dealt with individual psychology as presented by Dr. Alfred Adler, noted Viennese psychologist who is now in this country.

In an intelligent fashion, Mr. Rosenberger dealt with "lifestyles, vocational tasks, and the reasons for neurosis." He spoke at some length but the women of the Quota Club followed him with rapt attention during the entire length of his discourse.

Mrs. Claire Brown, president, presided while the speaker of the evening was introduced by Mrs. Orra Snyder.

MUSIC CLUB OPENING NEXT MONDAY EVENING

Music club members will launch the fall and winter program Monday evening, September 30, with an interesting program at 8 o'clock, in Highland U. P. church, according to Miss Barbara Schulz, the new president.

After the program, there will be an informal reception and tea.

Leave For Detroit, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Coe, and daughter, Emeline, of 910 West Washington street, have left for Detroit, Mich., where they will visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Buba. They will take a trip to Canada, and before returning will be guests of another daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Schoer of Akron, O. They expect to be gone for one week.

JUNIOR B. P. W. BOARD HAS DINNER MEETING

Delightful hospitality was extended members of the Junior B. P. W. Club Executive Board, Monday evening, in the home of Sylvia Lee Martin, Park avenue, when she entertained jointly with Lois Biggins, at a dinner party.

Places were cleverly arranged at individual tables, where the hostesses served to sixteen guests, a delicious chili con carne dinner at 7 o'clock. This feature proved most enjoyable, and the girls were complimented on their culinary art.

Following, a business session was in order and plans were discussed extensively for the Junior B. P. W. annual bridge party to take place at The Castleton. The date chosen, falls on Tuesday, November 5. Something unusual in the way of entertainment will be an added feature for this particular occasion, further details to be given out later.

Attention was given to club memberships as part of evening's program and to Margaret Henry Home project, which is a new responsibility for the local club this year. On Friday evening of this week, Lucille Emery and Wanda White will go to the Home and continue teaching the children to knit pocketbooks. On the following Friday, Dorothy Boyles and Lois Biggins were appointed to proceed with the same instructions. This project has created such enthusiasm for all concerned, and the work accomplished already, is most gratifying.

Gramoda Kensington Gramoda Kensington will meet Thursday evening for a tureen dinner at the home of Mrs. Wayne Snyder, Garfield avenue. Husbands of the members will be special guests.

BANQUET-MEETING DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Covers were arranged at attractively decorated tables for 100 guests at the banquet sponsored by New Castle chapter 105, O. E. S., Monday evening in the Cathedral. Special guests of the occasion were district deputy grand matrons and matrons of district 2B.

An elegant menu was served by the committee consisting of Mrs. Gertrude Fink, chairman; Mrs. Jean Thompson, Mrs. Flora Boak and Mrs. Bertha Armstrong. During the dinner hour, the guests were delightfully entertained with a number of songs by the little Heckart sisters, aged 3, 6 and 8 years.

At 8 o'clock the women wended their way to the east lodge room for the regular meeting, which was in charge of the worthy matron, Mrs. Grace W. Crawford. The affair was most enjoyable throughout, and was shared by many visitors from neighboring towns.

SURPRISE AFFAIR HONORS BIRTHDAY

A cleverly arranged surprise honored Mrs. A. C. Schuck, of Garfield avenue, Saturday evening, when a group of friends numbering around 20, invaded her home to help celebrate her birthday.

The evening was spent with various amusements and social chat, the prizes being won by Mrs. Rachel Bowden, Mrs. Floyd Gettings, Mrs. William Smock, Mrs. Pearl Wimer and Mrs. John Campbell. A collection of lovely gifts was received by the honored one.

At a suitable hour, lunch was served by the hostess' daughter, Mrs. Clara Hammond, assisted by her cousin, Mrs. F. J. Lovett, who, with her husband, were out of town guests.

PARLIAMENTARY LAW IS SUBJECT OF TALK

Attorney Suzanne Beatty, of Pittsburgh, was the guest speaker at Monday evening's meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club in the Y. W. C. A. Her subject was "Parliamentary Law," of vital interest to all club members and officers. She traced its evolution to the present day and gave a number of interesting and helpful rules to be followed.

Attorney Beatty is a former New Castle resident and is a member of the New Castle B. P. W. club. She is a speaker of ability and last night's address proved of great interest to the 50 members assembled.

She was introduced in a clever manner by Attorney Margaret Toepfer, another member of the club. The address immediately followed dinner in the Y's third floor dining room.

The executive board will meet at the Rae Muirhead cottage, Lakewood, instead of at the Y. W. C. A. next Monday evening for dinner at six.

The next regular meeting of the club will be on Monday, October 7.

Coblentz-Tucker Marriage Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coblentz of West Washington street extension, of the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Isabel, to Hugh Wallace Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Tucker of Greenwood avenue.

The ceremony took place Saturday, September 21, in New Castle, with Justice of the Peace John T. Brinton, officiating.

The couple are residing at the home of the bride's parents for the present time, and later will move to Youngstown, O., where he is employed at the Trucon Steel corporation.

Change In Hadassah Program There will be a change in the order of the procedure of tonight's opening meeting of New Castle Chapter of Hadassah, to take place at Beth Shalom.

Dr. Hyman A. Frank, the speaker scheduled, will appear first on the program, and the business meeting will follow.

BRIDE AND GROOM BACK FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. George Milton Marquis, a bride and groom of September 17, have returned from their wedding trip and have taken up their residence in a newly furnished apartment at 409 East Lincoln avenue. While away, they visited Harrisburg, Philadelphia and New York.

Mrs. Marquis is the former Lillian Griffiths, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Griffiths of Temple avenue. Mr. Marquis is the son of Mrs. Lucy Marquis of Boyles avenue. Their marriage took place in the First Methodist church, with the Rev. Norris A. White, officiating with the single ring service.

CORN AND WIENER ROAST IS ENJOYED

Even though the evenings are rather chilly, corn and wiener roasts continue to be popular another event of the kind which proved most enjoyable Monday evening, being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leis, on the Savannah road.

Guests, numbering about 40 were members of the New Castle Hospital Emergency club and their husbands, who had a pleasant evening with cards and bingo forming earlier pastimes. Prizes were won by Mrs. R. E. Donnell and Ed Davenport.

Later, the group gathered around long tables which had been arranged in the big double garage and enjoyed with hearty relish, steaming hot corn and wieners which had been prepared in big kettles outside.

Credit for the evening's success is due to Misses Helen Hannon, Katherine Newman, Helen and Margaret McGowan.

MRS. STANLEY REESE IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Mrs. Stanley Reese will be president of the Philathea class of the First Baptist church during the coming year, as the result of an election conducted Monday evening, and Mrs. Harry Cook will be vice president; Miss Frances Hayden, secretary and Mrs. Ed. McKibben, treasurer.

Monday evening's meeting took place at the home of Miss Frances Hayden, at Walmo, and Miss Alma Broadhead was the associate hostess. Sixteen members participated.

The election followed devotions led by the teacher, Mrs. H. G. Woodrow and prayer by Miss Broadhead.

It was decided to change the name of the class to the "Edith Woodrow Class."

The balance of the evening was passed socially and a tasty lunch was served.

On October 28, dinner will be served at the home of a former member, Mrs. Blanche Hofmeister, Youngstown, O., to which the Edith Woodrow class members have been invited.

KITCHEN SHOWER FOR COMING BRIDE Miss Dorothy Weygant, whose wedding will take place in October, was the guest of honor at the meeting of the Workers Together Class of the Croton Avenue M. E. Sunday School last evening, when they assembled in the home of the Misses Louise and Ethel Munnell, of the East Brook road.

After the honor guest had undraped the stars of useful gifts, which were presented by the class members, games and contests were enjoyed.

Later a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by their mother, Mrs. W. B. Munnell.

Announce Marriage

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Frieda Cohen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Cohen of Carnegie, Pa., and Thomas Alansky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Alansky, of East Reynolds street, which took place on Sunday, in the study of Rabbi S. I. Vitz, of Pittsburgh.

Following the ring ceremony, a reception was held in the bride's home for friends and relatives. The young couple, who are dispensing with a honeymoon for the present, are at home to their friends on West Long avenue, this city.

Jones Reunion

First annual reunion of the Jones family will be held Saturday, September 28, at Ewing Park, near Ellwood City. It will be decided at this time to hold the reunion at an earlier date next year.

N. C. CAMPAIGN CLUB IS AGAIN ACTIVE

The New Castle Hospital Campaign club has again turned active, resuming their program of meetings for the new fall season. A busy time was launched with their annual corn and wiener roast, which took place Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leis on the Savannah road. Members, accompanied by husbands and friends, composed the guest list, and at the appointed hour an appetizing menu was served.

Later, attention was turned to bingo, with prizes going to Mrs. Emmett O'Donnell and Ed Davenport, which marked the closing feature. The committee responsible for the evening's success included Kathryn Newman, Ellen and Margaret McGowan, Adelaide Uhl and Helen Hannon.

At a business meeting held on Friday evening of the past week, election of officers occurred, with the following results: President, Mrs. Ed Davenport; vice-president, Ellen McGowan; treasurer, Adelaide Uhl; secretary, Mrs. A. L. Stitzinger. This organization has meetings and social functions in the interests of the New Castle hospital, and already they have outlined many occasions that will benefit the institution.

SHOWER HONORS JOSEPHINE FRANK

Misses Mary, Julia Frank and Antonette Mangine charmingly entertained a group of friends on Saturday night at a delightful shower honoring Josephine Frank, who is to be the bride of Tony Pla on September 25.

About 240 guests were present. Dancing was the chief pastime of the evening. At the close of the event, Miss Frank was presented with a number of lovely gifts. Refreshments were served by: Mary, Julia and Tony Frank, and Antonette Mangine.

Out of town guests present: Misses Mary and Jennie Vanasco, Anna, Sam and Margaret Dadio, Gabriel, Tony and Rose Fisher, and Jennie Basil.

EVENING BRIDGE AT FIELD CLUB THURSDAY

On Thursday evening, members of the New Castle Field club will assemble for a mixed bridge event, another of their series, with Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Patterson in the capacity of hosts.

Play will begin at 8:15 o'clock, and the usual procedure of awarding prizes to those winning distinction, and the serving of lunch, will conclude the evening's festivities.

Farewell Party

Mr. and Mrs. James Fiorelli, of Croton avenue, entertained about 75 guests Sunday evening, in honor of their son Frank, who is leaving Wednesday, September 25, for Valparaiso, Ind., where he will enter the Dodge Telegraph and Radio Institute.

A pleasant feature of the evening was a musical program rendered through a microphone which was connected from the dining room into the living room. The program was furnished by Andy Delonore, accordionist; Frank Fiorelli, Ruth Wilkinson, Mrs. Wilkinson, Lena Malls, Jerry George, Ann Fiorelli, Theresa Faccarella, Amor Vincent and little Peggy Wilkinson, solos; Andy Malletta and Archie Antinose, duet; tap dance, Ruth Wilkinson.

Dancing filled in the remaining hours and tasty refreshments were served by the Misses Theresa and Helen Fiorelli, assisted by Theresa Faccarella, Mary James and Mildred Blanco.

The guest of honor received lovely gifts as farewell tokens from his many friends who wish him success.

ONE SMALL piece of cheerful news:
The United States had only one warship, the destroyer Dale in the Mediterranean, and she has been ordered home, away from the seat of European trouble immediately.

Had this nation shown as much common sense in the big war everybody would be better off. But cross your thumb and touch wood. It does not take long for a nation to turn foolish.

We learned that after we spent one period yelling, "he kept us out of war," only to go in later to the tune of one hundred billions, and other billions to come.

Newspapers in Pennsylvania, 265 of them, are celebrating "press prestige" week. Gov. Earle tells the editors, presumably shivering with the important and surprise about "the important part that newspapers play in the lives of our people." It is as important as the part played by the people's eyes and ears, and might be taken for granted, by now.

Napoleon knew about it when he said that if he allowed freedom of the press, his power would not last six weeks. Stalin Hitler and Mussolini could make speeches about it.

THE NEWSPAPER is a mirror in which the public sees itself, the newspaper's owner and the civilization of the moment. Interesting reflections of that civilization may appear soon in despatches from Ethiopia, and from London, in case Mussolini should send his first 500 airplanes in the direction of Buckingham Palace, the House of Commons, Downing Street and the Bank of England with the message:

"What do you think of explosives and mustard gas sanctions?"

THE PATHETIC thing, in journalism as in politics, is the lack of names that the people know. Millions of Americans read newspapers with no faintest conception as to the character of the man whose newspaper they read. It might be called "ANONYMOUS NONENTITY." There are exceptions.

THE MOST important and influential newspaper, by far, in proportion to circulation, is the so-called "country newspaper," smaller dailies and weeklies.

Their readers know who runs them and these readers, not living in city apartments with a can-opener built into the roof to the cement in the cellar floor, from the piano and radio in the sitting room to the car in the garage.

ON SATURDAY, the "Tigers," a White House baseball team, played the "Saints and Sinners." The "Tigers" were badly beaten, in spite of encouraging cheers from President Roosevelt. It was soft-ball baseball and very soft. "Saints and Sinners" making as many as 23 runs in one inning.

The President smiled through defeat, indicating that if he had to lose at any game, soft-ball baseball would be his choice.

Next year will come another game, that will not be "softball."

Jack Dempsey played with the "Saints and Sinners" and while he failed to cross the home plate even once he good-naturedly went all the way out of town, for the advertisement, and should have it.

History Of Ethiopia.
Why Italy Wants It.

Leslie Eichel, writer of the world at a Glance column, today substitutes for his own column extracts from an article on Ethiopia by William Koren, Jr., of the Foreign Policy Association. Mr. Koren's intensely interesting description of Ethiopia appears in the current issue of Foreign Policy Reports.

By WILLIAM KOREN, JR.
In "Foreign Policy Reports"

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Ethiopia, also called Abyssinia, or "land of mixed peoples," covers an area of 350,000 square miles in northeast Africa which is entirely surrounded by the colonial possessions of Great Britain, France and Italy. From the hot semi-deserts of the northeast and southeast, which border on the Italian colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland, a plateau rises sharply 6,000 to 9,000 feet above sea level. The valley of the river Hawash—in which Ethiopia's only railway runs from Jibuti in French Somaliland to the capital, Addis Ababa—divides the plateau into unequal sections.

The population, estimated at between 5,500,000 and 7,500,000, is divided into subjects and ruling classes. The ruling Amharas, who number close to 3,000,000 and live on the plateau, are of Hamitic origin with infiltrations of Semitic and Negro blood. By religion they are Christians of the Coptic order, the head of their church being appointed by the Patriarch of Alexandria. They expanded their control over the whole of Ethiopia, including the other provinces, during the past half century.

The Gallas, most advanced of the subject groups, include both Christian and Moslem tribes; they constitute the peasant class. In the southwest are pagan Negroes and in the north, communities of Jews.

The unruly nomadic tribes of the Danakil in the northeast and of the Ogaden in the southeast are Mohammedans.

The Ethiopian plateau, with a temperate climate ideal for Europeans, is a rich agricultural country. It yields two, and sometimes three, crops a year to the primitive methods of the natives, who raise barley, millet, wheat and coffee; and provides excellent grazing for cattle, sheep and goats.

Other natural resources remain largely unexploited. These include cotton and sugar cane, rubber and other valuable trees, gold, platinum, iron, coal, copper, sulphur and potash salts.

WHO BUYS—AND WHAT

Ethiopia exports coffee, hides and skins, and beeswax, chiefly to Great Britain and the United States. The largest imports are salt from French Somaliland, cheap cotton yarn and English and corrugated iron sheets from Belgium and England. It is alleged that cheap Japanese goods have recently captured an increasing share of the Ethiopian market.

Italy has only a small share in direct trade with Ethiopia; transit trade by caravan through Eritrea is estimated at 10 per cent of Ethiopia's total foreign commerce. Increased trade and exploitation of the country are hampered by the lack of motor roads.

ABSOLUTE RULER

Haile Selassie I, Negus Negasti or "King of Kings," is Emperor and absolute ruler of Ethiopia. On July 16, 1931, he voluntarily proclaimed a constitution which set up a parliament of two houses, but this is an advisory body appointed by the Emperor. The ancient provincial divisions are ruled by direct appointees of the Emperor, who command the garrisons, collect taxes and dispense justice. Orders of the Emperor must be transmitted through them to lesser officers for execution.

IMPROVING GOVERNMENT

Haile Selassie is attempting to improve education, the administration of justice, and public health.

No persons claiming the protection of any provision of the Constitution, or any U. S. laws or treaties, in any tribunal of the country, whether State or federal, can be deprived of its short of a decision of the Supreme Court.

But the most powerful agency in the country has no power to enforce its decisions!

Sept. 24, 1755—John Marshall was born in Germantown, Fauquier county, Virginia. He made the Supreme Court of the United States what it is today.

It was said of him by (William Pinckney) that "he was born to be the chief justice of whatever coun-facilities. He has also employed a Belgian military mission to train the imperial bodyguard of 3,000 men, which is equipped with anti-aircraft guns, automatic rifles and machine guns. Outside Addis Ababa, however, modernization progresses slowly. The standing army of 100,000, which garrisons the provinces, and the armed followers of local chiefs, who may number as many as 600,000, possess probably only 100,000 modern rifles in all. The whole of the fighting forces is handicapped by lack of ammunition and transport.

Domestic slavery is a recognized institution, but is being gradually eliminated. An edict of March 31, 1924, provided for the emancipation of children born of slaves and decreed severe penalties for failure to suppress the slave trade. A second law, of July 15, 1931, declared that slaves should be freed immediately on the death of their master. From September 1, 1933, to August 15, 1934, 3,647 slaves were liberated and 293 persons were sentenced for offenses under these laws.

Ethiopia was admitted to membership in the League of Nations on Sept. 28, 1923. As a condition of admittance it assumed two obligations incumbent on European powers possessing territory in Africa and on the Red Sea: To "endeavor to secure the complete suppression of slavery" and to prohibit the acquisition of arms by unauthorized persons within its territory.

On Aug. 21, 1930, Ethiopia signed a treaty with Great Britain, France and Italy designed to implement this pledge and enable the Emperor "to obtain all the arms and munitions necessary for the defense of his territories from external aggression."

ITALY NEEDS UNSATISFIED

The agreements so far concluded by Italy with Ethiopia and with European powers have neither satisfied its colonial ambitions nor opened up the trade potentialities of the East African colonies. Italy lacks from coal, oil, cotton and other essential raw materials, while its agricultural produce is insufficient to feed the population, which is increasing by nearly 500,000 a year with government encouragement. Britain and France, moreover, far outdistanced Italy in the race for colonies. These parts of Africa which fell to Italy provided neither the needed raw materials nor opportunities for colonization.

PRETEXT FOR PRESENT DISPUTE

The death of 30 Somali soldiers in a border clash with Ethiopian troops in December, 1934, supplied Italy with a convenient pretext for pressing its efforts to obtain control of Ethiopia.

In order to be in a position to force Ethiopia's submission should Haile Selassie refuse to accede to its demands, Italy has concentrated 200,000 troops in its East African colonies since February, 1935.

Gen. MacArthur Gives Warning

Parting Shot Is Delivered By Chief Of Staff Of Army

FIVE-YEAR-PLAN IS RECOMMENDED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A warning to the nation, and especially to congress, that "to be second best in war is to be defeated," was General Douglas MacArthur's parting shot Monday as chief of staff of the army.

In his last annual report, MacArthur also warned that the army's shortage of ammunition is "a matter of serious concern."

He recommended immediate adoption of a comprehensive five-year plan to modernize and raise the army to a level where it could give reasonable assurance of providing an adequate national defense.

Measures Advocated.

Among the principal measures he advocated as urgently necessary under this five-year development plan were the following:

1. Procurement of 803 fighting planes annually for the air corps.
2. Immediate establishment of a stock of air bases throughout the United States.
3. A five-year munitions procurement program, to provide the army with a supply sufficient to carry on at least one month's war.

4. An active regular army of 165,000 men and establishment of an enlisted reserve force of 150,000 men.
5. New semi-automatic rifles for every regular soldier and a 5-year procurement program to arm the national guard with these modern weapons.

6. Complete anti-aircraft equipment for all active regiments of the regular army and national guard.

7. A five-year procurement program to equip the army with defensive and protective chemical warfare equipment.

The army, MacArthur declared, must be freed from the "shackles tending to chain it to obsolescence and stagnation."

"No Compromise."

"There can be no compromise with minimum requirements," he said. "In war there is no immediate measure of success. Second best is to be defeated, and military defeat carries with it national disaster—political, economic, social and spiritual disaster."

In a fervent appeal to the administration and congress to continue the steps which have been taken to revitalize the army, MacArthur said: "For 13 years, the curve representing the army's ability to perform its vital emergency missions has been trending continuously and dangerously downward."

"The present year definitely marks the beginning of a long-deferred resumption of military preparation on a scale demanded by the most casual regard for the nation's safety and security."

MacArthur struck off sharply in his report at a movement started in the last session of congress to encourage the officering of the army largely with graduates from ROTC units in state universities, rather than from West Point.

Declaring that the discipline, courage and loyalty instilled in the cadets at West Point represents the foundation of the army's morale, MacArthur said the officers corps should include at least 50 per cent of West Point graduates.

County Scouters To Go To Altoona Meet

The Lawrence County council of the Boy Scouts of America will be represented at the Western Pennsylvania divisional conference of Region Three executives and council leaders in Altoona on Saturday, September 28.

President L. B. Round will likely head the delegation with Rev. A. M. Stump, Ralph F. Davis and other county men in the party. Deputy Regional Director J. Lee Calahan, of Philadelphia, now in the city directing the Lawrence-Mercer council merger negotiations, will also go to Altoona from here. The conference will last one day.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF GIRL SCOUTS WILL OPEN IN CALIFORNIA

The 21st annual convention of the Girl Scout National Council will take place in San Francisco, Calif., October 2 to 4. This is the first time the national council has met on the Pacific coast and the delegates will be welcomed on the opening morning by the "country's most distinguished Girl Scout," Mrs. Herbert Hoover, honorary vice-president and California delegate.

Christine Butler Gives Report Of Welfare Program

Outline Of Summer's Work At Neighborhood House Submitted To Board

The Americanization Board met at the home of A. A. Webb, Laurel boulevard, on Saturday evening. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Charles Greer, Mr. Webb, the vice president was in charge.

Reports were heard from the treasurer, Miss Mollie Davis, and Miss Christine Butler, worker at the Neighborhood House. Miss Butler gave the following report for July and August, in part:

Calls made, 66; book exchanges, 144; books received from Miss Krause, 10; many magazines were given by the Reformed Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society, through Mrs. Myrl Riley Wilson.

Miss Butler stated that much of the work of the center continued through July, such as the Christian Endeavor society, embroidery circle, library, prayer groups and Sunday school. The embroidery circle closed activities with a picnic at Cascade Park. The Christian Endeavor had its last meeting at Gaston Park and enjoyed games, races, supper, closing with group singing. Sunday School was conducted throughout the month of August.

The Christian Endeavor and music class have been resumed. The former has started to learn the primary catechism, among other things.

Three Schofield and four other Bibles have been given out. "All class work will be opened sometime in October."

Weekly Health Talks

"Speaking financially, there are two groups of persons, the spenders and the thrifty. The former apparently work on the theory 'Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die.' Nevertheless, they usually long survive their money and then become dependent upon some one else. The latter realize that rainy days may come, plan accordingly, and successfully meet the emergencies as they arise. Most persons, from the health standpoint, can also similarly be classified," states Dr. Edith MacBride-Dexter, State Secretary of Health.

"However, in a definite though reasonable health plan, it is just as essential to spend wisely as to save, by pampering or by coddling, is just about as sensible as hoarding money merely for the misguided pleasure of possession. Like money, bodies were made to use. Vitality depends upon proper activity; the trouble is likely to arise when one spends too much or too little of it.

his chauffeur drive him home, played bridge or engaged in some similar inactive recreation, and retired at midnight.

"The doctor advised his patient that his real trouble was too much gasoline and too little exercise. Much chastened, this nervous gentleman, who had gone to his physician for a tonic, is now walking to work and attending a gymnasium every week. He thus is at last realizing that middle-aged muscles in a sound body are made for reasonable use, and that physical slothfulness does not pay."

"While undoubtedly this is an extreme example, there are many older persons as well as some younger ones who have become victims of luxury-living habits. They should realize that, to save strength by refusing properly to exercise is to waste it. Health-thrift, while demanding moderation, nevertheless requires physical activity."

FEDERAL MEN TAKE

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

IN RAID MONDAY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—Setting a precedent here, agents of the federal alcohol tax unit, seized household goods Monday following the raid of a dwelling where they found a large quantity of untaxed liquor.

Bringing back with them three truckloads of furniture to the federal warehouse, they invoked for the first time the provision of a law which granted federal agents the power to confiscate all property where illegal liquor was found.

"Stroke Came On Mr. Capitola Gradually," They Report, On Return

J. Wallace Wysner, Frank N. Johnston and James Thompson returned home Monday evening from Canada where their projected week of fishing was cancelled by the death of Peter P. Capitola, Democratic candidate for mayor.

"The stroke came upon Mr. Capitola gradually," said Mr. Wysner. "Just on the other side of St. Catharines, Ontario, Mr. Capitola complained of being dizzy. We thought it might be the stuffy air in the car and we rolled the windows down. A little later he complained of his hands and arms being numb and still later that the side of his face felt numb. The last thing he said was 'speak a little louder, I can't hear you. Then he lapsed into unconsciousness.'"

"All this time we had been looking for a place to stop to get him aid. It was about eleven o'clock Sunday night. We pulled into a tourist camp and got Mr. Capitola into a bed and then called a doctor. He answered the call and said that Mr. Capitola had suffered a stroke and was in grave danger. An ambulance was called from St. Catharines and took Mr. Capitola to the hospital and we put in a telephone call to Mrs. Capitola in New Castle."

Since Mr. Capitola's death it has become known that he had been suffering for some time with high blood pressure. He had said little about it to his friends however.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brophy and daughter Cecil and Mrs. Christina Hedrick visited relatives at Struthers, O., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Oakes and family spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Oakes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Nicklin, of Stoneboro.

Mrs. Carmen Hawthorne and daughter Jo Anne and Alice Oakes were guests of Mrs. Kenneth Redmond, of Mercer, Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knauff, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Douglass and family attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Michaels, of Greenville Sunday afternoon.

Find Watchman Murdered Near Lonely Cemetery

Body Of 61 Year Old Caretaker Is Discovered By Son, At Philadelphia

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—Marion C. Pierce, 61, a watchman, was murdered outside the office of a lonely cemetery in suburban Cynwaid early today.

Body of the aged caretaker was discovered by his son, Ernest, 22. The victim had been shot through the heart and his head was so badly battered police were unable to determine whether he had also been shot through the head or black-jacked.

Pierce's revolver was missing, but nothing else was reported out of place in the office. Police were unable to advance a motive for the crime.

Patrolmen Get Tip On Pair Who Robbed Salix Bank, On Monday

(International News Service)
GETTYSBURG, Pa., Sept. 24.—All highways leading from Gettysburg were heavily guarded today by state patrolmen in the hope of capturing two men believed to have robbed a bank at Salix, near Johnstown, of $500.

State highway patrolmen, receiving a telephone call from Bedford with a description of the men and information they had boarded a bus for New York, rushed to the bus station, missing the pair by less than two minutes. In their hurry, the fleeing men left behind them a suitcase which revealed a supply of ammunition but no guns.

CLUB MEMBERS GUESTS AT KENNEDY RESIDENCE

An enjoyable gathering of D. D. 500 Club members was that held on Monday evening, when Mrs. Jesse Kennedy and Mrs. Milton Wood entertained jointly at the former's home on Richelieu avenue. Cards interested the group, and when play was concluded, novel prizes were carried off by Mrs. David Cox and Mrs. Fred Nicklin for holding honor scores.

The rooms throughout, were attractively decorated with clusters of the season's flowers, adding further to the evening's pleasures. After the serving of a tasty collation, they discussed plans to meet again in two weeks, the place to be announced.

Scout Honor Court On Wednesday Night

New Castle district Boy Scouts will receive recognition at a court of honor program in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church, Grant street, on Wednesday evening, September 25, at 8 o'clock. The Rev. A. M. Stump will preside. Ellwood City's scouts will hold their district court exercises on Friday evening, September 25, in the Old Central school.

North St. School Being Re-wired

Work is now well under way on the re-wiring of the North street school, a PWA project that has some time in the approving but has finally got started. The school was wired years ago when lighting was more of a guess than a science. It is now being rewired under proper lighting conditions. After it is completed the Oak street and West Side schools will be re-wired.

FRANCES WILLARD UNION

The Misses Martha and Anna Dadds of Elizabeth street extended the hospitality of their home to the members of the Frances Willard Union of the W. C. T. U. Friday evening, September 20. Thirty-five members were in attendance. Mrs. E. E. McGill was present as a guest. Mrs. E. E. McConaghy was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Joseph Riley, the new president, was in the chair when the meeting was called to order at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. M. R. Newbery led the singing, which was accompanied on the guitar by Thelma McElroy.

Mrs. James M. Blackwood conducted the worship period, using as her theme "The Virtuous Woman" and closing by prayer. The roll call was answered by a temperance thought or a verse of scripture.

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. T. W. Donaldson. The report of the program committee was made by Miss Martha Dadds. Mrs. T. A. Preston read a card of appreciation from the ladies of the Almaria Home for the 14 delicious apples, the apples being the Pennsylvania symbol of new members gained by the union during the current year. Apples carried in parade at convention by our president.

Echoes of the county convention of the W. C. T. U. were given by the following members and delegates: Mrs. Joseph McClaren, Mrs. James Pherson, Mrs. John Riley, Mrs. M. D. Allen and Mrs. Grant E. Fisher.

Mrs. T. A. Preston reported that recognition had been won by Mrs. W. E. McKee in relief work and that Mrs. T. W. Donaldson, the union's publicity director, in recognition of her work during the past year had been presented with the county banner at the convention.

The meeting was then turned over to the program committee. A reading was given by Shirley Gilmore, entitled "Alcohol is poison to living tissues." Miss Grace Eakin then introduced the five L. T. L. boys of the Oak Street Harmonica club.

Robert Lutz, Frank Richards, John Fugate, Albert Grove and Joe Deluca, who entertained the group with several selections in concert and two solos.

The next part of the program was an exercise in recognition of the past presidents of the Frances Willard Union. A large table was brought into the room on which was centered a large tier cake elegantly frosted in white to imitate shired white ribbon and white ribbon bows. Both ends of the table were banked with lovely roses.

After paying tribute to the fine women who had headed the union down through the years in the capacity of president, a white rose bud was placed in a large vase as the name of each deceased past president was called, and cards were read from past presidents living at a distance. Past presidents present were given each a corsage of beautiful pink roses.

The following is thought to be a complete list of the past presidents of the Frances Willard Union, although some of the earlier records are not available: Mrs. Henrietta Butler, Mrs. T. J. Blackwood, Mrs. Joseph Dadds, Mrs. E. C. Dadds, Mrs. Joseph Dunwoodie, Mrs. Blanche Hanna, Mrs. David Bolland, Mrs. M. D. Allen, Mrs. O. C. Orr, Mrs. Grace K. Lang, Mrs. Joseph B. McClaren and Mrs. T. A. Preston.

Miss Shirley Gilmore, past president of the Oak Street L. T. L., now of the Ben Franklin L. T. L., and Miss Joan Baldauf were each presented with a spray of roses.

The cake was cut by Miss Shirley Gilmore, Mrs. M. D. Allen, Mrs. J. B. McClaren and Mrs. T. A. Preston and served with the dainty refreshments. The hostesses of the evening were Mrs. C. A. Hollis, Mrs. Agnes Riley and Miss Grace Eakin.

The next meeting of the Frances Willard Union will be held in the home of Mrs. T. A. Preston, 1218 East Washington street, on October 18, 1935. The speaker at this time will be Dr. R. H. Martin of Beaver Falls, Pa.

W. C. T. U. EXECUTIVES
A meeting of the W. C. T. U. executives took place Monday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. The president, Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, was in charge. Devotions were led by Mrs. C. R. Bartley.

Unions desiring copies of the new song book stated the number needed. A letter from James Killip, state Y. P. B. director, was read. On his way from the state convention at Butler, to Hillsboro, and the Crusade City he will stop in New Castle for a day, with his Crusade Trailer.

Mrs. McClaren gave a detailed treasurer's report. This showed a net increase of 76 members. Slippery Rock union attained the standard of excellence. Up to date $100 has been received from the apron drive. East Brook, Harlansburg, Plaingrove, Frances Willard, Slippery Rock and Central have each given $10 or more to this fund and are entitled to name a county life member.

The executives named the following as delegates to the state convention: Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, Mrs. J. B. McClaren, Mrs. G. G. Stetson, Mrs. Margaret McClure and Miss Elizabeth Taylor. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. E. C. Beahm.

APPOINT DELEGATE
At a called meeting of the central committee this morning the Frances Willard W. C. T. U. appointed a delegate to the state convention which opens Thursday at Butler. This delegate is Miss Martha Dadds. She has the privilege of choosing her own alternate.

Lion Snaps At Throat Of Famous Actor During Filming Of Picture

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24.—The fangs of a huge 400 pound Nubian lion snapped at the throat of Charles Bickford, motion picture actor, during the filming of a picture here, and severed the stromastoid muscle, narrowly missing the carotid artery.

Swift action by studio attendants who leaped onto the set prevented the beast from following up its advantage and closing its huge jaws on Bickford's throat, it was said. The first rush of the animal had knocked the actor to the ground where he was helpless, as the lion, known as "Spring," crouched for a second spring. Bickford would recover but it would be necessary for him to remain under the care of surgeons for some time to prevent infection.

Newspaper Advertising Is Highly Endorsed

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—A collection of unqualified endorsements of the value of newspaper advertising in the growth and development of modern business and industry were released today by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association in connection with the current observance of newspaper prestige week.

The central office of the publishers' association addressed national advertisers for an expression of their views on newspaper advertising to obtain the endorsements for use during prestige week.

The Cliequot Club company, one of those whose endorsements was released, told of a 40-car freight train carrying 22,000 cases of a new container being started for Philadelphia six weeks after a newspaper advertising campaign was launched. The company said this was one of the largest single shipments in its history. Two nationwide food companies also told of successes from newspaper advertising. The Kellogg company called its newspaper advertising "the backbone of our effort" in sales promotion, because it enables "us to concentrate our efforts where they are needed most with a minimum of delay." R. W. Greigs, advertising manager for Standard Brands wrote that "newspaper advertising of our products has been very effective."

Similar expressions were revealed in letters from the Frigidaire corporation, General Electric company and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, but, the association said, probably the most striking of the testimonials was from the tobacco concerns. They cited detailed statistics citing sales increases corresponding in direct ratio to newspaper advertising investments.

Reports 11,477 Now On W.P.A. State Jobs

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—Works progress administrator Edward N. Jones today reported that 11,477 persons are now at work on 323 WPA projects throughout the state and that district offices are initiating another 367 projects to give immediate work to 25,228 more jobless.

The total of 690 projects actually underway or soon to be represented a cost of $7,282,077, Jones said. In addition to these, Washington has approved and released 153 more projects, to cost $29,069,428 which will give jobs to 45,002 persons. Practically all of these have been sent to district directors with orders to proceed with the work, Jones said.

Awaiting Washington approval are 3,199 more projects to cost $102,063,753 and provide jobs for 206,181 persons.

THAT'S THE IDEA
"My papa's a mounted policeman," said little Pat to his mother's visitor.

"Is that better than being a foot policeman?" she asked.
"Course it is," replied Pat. "If there's any trouble, he can get away quicker."

NO DATES FOR DARK SENORITAS?

THE MOST COLORFUL LOVE MAKING IN MEXICO IS THE KIND THAT THE SPANIARDS INTRODUCED FROM THEIR HOMELAND.

"The girls have no dates in Mexico." That is what travelers tell us of the Spanish-Indian inhabited country. "Love making," according to one educator who has just returned from a trip in Mexico, "is carried on in public with the whole village looking on and commenting." If the affair should take on the aspect of seriousness, the young man may appear outside the adobe walls of his adored, where he stands admiringly until he is noticed. Only after a formal engagement can the young man call on his lady love, and then he is strictly chaperoned. In some sections in the lowlands, the suitor first must woo the father—that is, leave various gifts on the doorstep for him. Marriage customs differ among different classes of society, however. Modern ways have influenced the most ancient of arts, including marriage, especially in the cities.

Mission Being Conducted Each Night At Parish

English And Slovak Sermons
Being Heard At St. Michael's R. C. Church

In preparation for the Twenty-Fifth Year Jubilee which will get underway at the church next Sunday, a mission is being conducted this week at St. Michael's R. C. church.

Sermons are being preached in both the Slovak and English languages, with the Franciscan fathers in charge. Rev. Paul J. Kulka, formerly a missionary in the mid-west, has been obtained by Rev. Ambrose Kapitan, the local pastor, to preach to the youth of the parish in English. Rev. A. Kopac, who is known all over the United States as editor of a Slovak magazine, conducts the Slovak sermons.

The mission will be conducted every night, English sermon at 7 o'clock and Slovak sermon at 7:30.

Vice President Of U. S. Steel Speaks In Their Defense At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—Buttly attacking governmental intervention in employer and employee relationships, Arthur H. Young, vice president of the United States Steel corporation, today offered a defense of the "company union" in the steel industry.

Addressing engineers and executives attending the three-day convention of the Association of Iron & Steel Electrical Engineers, Young held that improvement in the economic security of workers must come from the company and not from the government.

"I would drive it deep into the consciousness of every 'kibitzer,'" he said, "who, behind the mask of assumedly necessary social reconstruction of our national life would, without invitation from the players, change the rules of an ancient and honorable game, even though they themselves be not players of the game."

Upholding the "company union" as preferable to "some form of outside organization," Young declared: "If in the worker's opinion, he is assured of a square deal while on the job, and if he knows that his boss is on the square with him and will play ball with him on a 50-50 basis on any matter of mutual concern, then he will never permit the arrangements, which have given him this assurance, to be set aside at the dictation of an alien group."

BICYCLE COMING INTO ITS OWN

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 24.—The bicycle is more popular now than at any time since 1910 when the populace went "bike crazy" in a big way. L. H. Southmayd of New York, president of the organization's 28th annual convention here, said 3,000,000 bicycle riders in the United States today and added that cyclists is increasing in popularity among women.

Van Sweringen Railroad Empire Which Goes on Auction Block

Control of the $3,000,000,000 systems of railroads, industrial enterprises and real estate projects that comprise the holdings of the Van Sweringen brothers of Cleveland will probably pass to others next week at a New York public auction of Van Sweringen securities pledged with J. P. Morgan & Co. for an unpaid loan of $50,000,000. It will be the biggest sale of its kind in American fiscal history. The map shows the railroad systems controlled by the Van Sweringens and the Union Terminal in Cleveland built by them and headquarters of their "empire."

Most Costly Locomotive Ever Built to Cut Time

Tests prove this new Diesel locomotive of the Santa Fe railroad will cut the running time from Chicago to Los Angeles by a day. Speed up to 110 miles with a 11-car standard-weight Pullman train will be recorded, but average running speed of course will be much less. The new locomotive, which has 3,600 horsepower and weighs 240 tons, cost $360,000, thus is the most expensive locomotive ever built. Its maintenance and operating costs, however, are expected to save a considerable sum. This type locomotive will haul a faster section of the road's noted train, "The Chief". The new train to be called, "The Super Chief". Present running time between the two cities is 53 hours, 45 minutes.

Dems Planning Re-Alignment

Old Line Democrats Are Forming Anti-Roosevelt Leagues In Country

MIGHT BE TERMED REPUBLICANS NOW

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 "E" street

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The activities of organizations like Jettett Shouse's American Liberty League and John Henry Kirby's Constitutional league, give the impression that the Democratic and Republican parties have swapped positions permanently.

In the old-fashioned sense of what is Democrat, the two leagues, both predominantly are Democratic.

That is to say, they are laissez-faire, states' rights outfits.

These used to be Democratic principles. Today they are the principles of the regular (not the insurgent) Republicans. Regular Republicanism has flopped, in short, from the devotion to a centralized to a decentralized form of national government.

REFUSE TO FLOP

However, there are many old-time Democrats who refuse to flop.

Really the old-time Democrats now are regular Republicans.

On the other hand, progressive Republicans now are Roosevelt Democrats.

It would seem to be the wise thing for the old-time Democrats to join the regular Republicans.

The progressive Republicans HAVE, in effect, joined the Roosevelt Democrats.

But the old-time Democrats cling to their original name.

They want to regain control of their party machine, forcing regular Republicans to join THEE instead of joining the regular Republicans—and forcing President Roosevelt and other New Dealers to classify themselves as progressive Republicans of the Morris type, or outright radicals, or Socialists, or even Communists, or what-not.

NON-PARTISAN?

Jouett Shouse's American Liberty league calls itself non-partisan. Nevertheless, it is dominated by Democrats, such as Shouse himself, Al Smith and John J. Raskob.

Their policy is one of attack upon what they consider the unconstitutionality of the present administration's procedure. Conceivably they could align themselves with present-day Republicanism. Indeed, a coalition presidential ticket for 1936 has been suggested.

John Henry Kirby's following, contrariwise, proposes to bore from within.

It doesn't so much hope to beat President Roosevelt for re-election as to beat him for renomination. It wants to win in November of next year with its own kind of a Democrat rather than to beat President Roosevelt with a so-called Republican.

WHY NOT COMBINE

One wonders why the Shouse-ites and the Kirby-ites don't combine.

My personal guess is that Shouse is a trifle jealous of Kirby.

Shouse thought of his American Liberty league some time before Kirby was inspired to launch his Constitutional league.

He started it and it pays him a very large salary.

Kirby, a rich Texas lumberman, doesn't work for pay.

Maybe it is unfair competition.

SHOUSE GETS PUBLICITY

Of the two, however, Shouse is much the better advertiser.

HIS league already is savagely attacked by administration managers.

It is scheduled to be investigated by Senator Hugo L. Black's anti-lobbying committee; that's publicity.

Kirby's league hasn't been put on the pan yet.

Kirby doesn't know how to publicize himself.

MY NEW YORK

By JAS. ASWELL

(Copyright, 1935, Central Press Association.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—I am by way of becoming a diplomatic incident. This cheery news is conveyed by the theatrical cardiograph, Variety, which prints a long letter from an American consul general in the Argentine to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, viewing with alarm a recent screed of mine.

I thought the piece was about as harmless as anything could be. But you never can tell. Its burden was that American chorus girls, weary of the gaucheries of thin-walletted American swains, were setting sail in numbers for South America, eager for the gallantries of the gauchos and the pesos of the pampas.

With appropriate art, it was syndicated to various newspapers throughout the United States and even translated into foreign tongues.

Now Mr. A. M. Warren, our consul general in Buenos Aires, is so distressed that he has rushed an official communiqué to his boss, suggesting that "to offset the propaganda put forth in the article written by James Aswell, the consulate general has requested the local representatives of the New York Times and Variety to furnish their respective publications with information as to actual conditions in Buenos Aires confronting American chorus girls."

Mr. Warren evidently considers the New York Times the daily paper here with the largest following of footlight lassies, and I have no figures handy with which to dispute it. Still, the idea is surprising.

He points out that American chorus girls are required to give from four to six shows daily in the theaters and cabarets which import them. He says they make only $45 per week, which is a pittance in view of the high cost of Argentine living and the unfamiliarity of the girls with local conditions.

But the source of his greatest concern seems to be: "This article depicts wealthy Argentines as anxiously awaiting the arrival of such girls in order to marry them at the earliest opportunity.... The assertion... that Argentines are desirous of marrying American showgirls is erroneous."

How on earth can Mr. Warren know that? How does he know what kind of girls give the Argentine lads the highest blood-pressure? Why doesn't he let them speak for themselves? And surely Mr. Warren doesn't pretend that the Argentine millionaires who have already married American chorus girls weren't really desirous of marrying them. The implication would be odious. Certainly Senor Macoco de Alzaga Unzué was desirous of marrying Miss Kathryn Ray, and I could give other names.

Moreover, the thorough knowledge of the whole night club situation which Mr. Warren reveals in his letter is somewhat disquieting. He has the lowdown on what chorus girls make a night they are required to perform and their various difficulties in a strange land.

Tch, tch! Mr. Warren!

I am afraid that the propaganda set forth in his letter by Mr. Warren will only cause a rush of young men into the consular service. Once upon a time it was believed that the consular service meant devotion to such chores as treaty-making, trade balance auditing and stuffy governmental matters like banqueting with official bigwigs.

Now it would appear that an up-and-coming consul must have an encyclopedic knowledge of the local night clubs, besides a flair for mind-reading. For Mr. Warren has so far penetrated the Argentine psyche that he is able to make the flat statement that none of them have any desire to lead American footlight beauties to the altar.

How many shows does the young consular attaché have to attend a day, and does he go in on the cuff? And how do Argentine chorus girls feel about American millionaires, if any? And isn't it dangerous to assert that America is exporting too many chorus girls, particularly in an official dispatch to a cabinet member under the New Deal? Mightn't he order every third or fourth chorus girl plowed under if the worst came to the worst?

Lawrence County's Women's Christian Temperance Union expects to have a large delegation present at the 61st annual Pennsylvania W. C. T. U. convention in Butler, September 26 to 30.

Convention headquarters will be in the First M. E. church, North McKean and East North streets, Butler. The program will open Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Ella B. Black, of Beaverdale, the president, will be in charge.

Mrs. Helen Wilkins, president of the Lawrence County W. C. T. U., will give words of welcome in the opening session, as will Mrs. Edith M. Wagner, president of the Butler W. C. T. U.

Election of officers will take place on Saturday morning, September 28.

New Y. W. Classes Will Be Planned

General Education Division Of Y. W. C. A. To Have Meeting Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. general education division will take place and plans will be made for the fall class program.

Knowing that every year many young people, and older people, too, are not content with doing nothing in their spare hours but appeal to the Y. W. C. A. to help them to spend their time more profitably, this division will decide upon the immediate organization of various classes.

Some young people want gym classes to keep up their good health and furnish the joy of play, some want shorthand classes in order to help maintain their speed in a too little used art and others find interest in choral, mandolin and guitar classes.

Often, in the Y. W. C. A. art classes, hidden talent in sketching is discovered. Last year numerous mothers were intensely interested in a class which taught them how to make over second hand clothing for themselves and children and how to brighten up their homes without spending money.

All of these needs the Y. W. C. A. education committee will consider at tonight's meeting. Present will be Elmer Patterson, who is in charge of the Emergency Education Relief administration, who will advise the committee as to what government classes may be available at the Y. W. C. A. this year.

The education division, comprised

LONG RAINY SPELL NEARS END IN ETHIOPIA

Thirty Six Hours Pass Minus Rain

Zero Hour Is Only Four Days Off For Possible War Outbreak

PESSIMISM OVER PEACE OUTLOOK

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 24.—Thirty-six hours have passed without rain in Addis Ababa for the first time in seven months, and today, just four days from the zero hour, even the blinding brilliance of the equatorial Alpine sunshine could not dissipate the shadow of war.

The latest events in Europe have by no means impressed Addis Ababa with the idea that the "war's off."

No Change

According to opinion here, none of the essential elements has changed, and the only important event of the last fortnight was the movement of the British fleet in the Mediterranean.

It is still feared that the French will not support Britain with anything but words, and Britain will not attempt sanctions against Italy alone.

As one authority put it: "There are three limbs on this tree. France is half-way out of one, and England is two-thirds out of one. But Italy is all the way out, hanging by her teeth."

This view in Addis Ababa is but slightly qualified by Premier Mussolini's most recent actions.

It is considered important that Mussolini has consented to talk at all, but it is pointed out that his own minimum requirements are so extravagant as to give no evidence that his demands can be reduced to proportions acceptable here.

Difficulties Increased

The difficulties of the Ethiopian government have been enormously increased by the dearth of information from abroad.

The committee of five proposals, delivered to the Ethiopian delegation at Geneva Saturday, took four days in transmission, and the last section was only received here today.

The entire text, in code, contains seven sections. It is stated here that the Ethiopian delegation in Geneva was empowered and did accept the proposals with reservations.

This was purely a diplomatic move to throw the responsibility back to Mussolini.

Now that the outline of his own demands have been rejected by the League committee, his next move, according to opinion here, will probably take the form of a frontier incident, in which an alleged attack by Ethiopian troops will be followed by the opening of the Italian campaign.

Red Cross Board Plans Roll Call

Plans For City And County Campaign Are Discussed At Meeting Last Evening

CHAIRMAN WILL BE NAMED SOON

Plans for the coming Roll Call were discussed by members of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, at their monthly meeting in the chapter rooms on South Mercer street, last evening.

M. L. Scanlon, special roll call representative of the National American Red Cross was present, and discussed plans for the drive. It is expected that a chairman will be named to conduct the coming campaign during the coming week, when further plans for the drive, which opens Armistice Day, November 11, will be outlined.

Meetings of the executive committee had been suspended during the summer months, last evening's session marking the opening of the fall season with an increase in the activities of the chapter.

Japan Seeking To Strike Hard Bargain

Negotiations Over Curtailment Of Textiles To Philippines In Progress

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Japan is seeking to strike a hard bargain with the United States over curtailment of Japanese textile exports to the Philippines.

Japan's latest offer has been considered totally unsatisfactory by the State Department and Tokyo has been asked for a further clarification of its willingness to curtail voluntarily its textile exports to the islands.

Tokyo contends that it faces as much difficulty trying to restrict its exports as the American government faces in endeavoring to satisfy American textile manufacturers.

However, the State Department

Jury Has Case Of Seven Brunos

Seek Death Penalty In Last Of Kelayres Massacre Trials In Pottsville

(International News Service)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 24.—A jury of eight men and four women today deliberated the fate of Joseph Bruno, former Kelayres Republican boss, and six relatives in the last of the Kelayres massacre trials.

The commonwealth asked for a verdict of guilty with a death penalty for all seven defendants, while the defense urged that the Brunos be acquitted.

At the close of a night session held specially to speed the case to them, the jury was given the evidence by Judge Benjamin Jones, Wilkes-Barre, with the charge:

"It has been definitely shown that shots were fired from the Bruno home on the night in question. However, there is no direct evidence to prove these shots were fired by any of these men as there were others in the residence at the time. It is entirely up to you, and you as representatives of the people must decide."

The seven defendants were tried jointly in a hearing lasting more than two weeks for the murder of William Forke, Silver Brook, one of five men slain when a hail of lead ripped through a Democratic parade election eve last year as it passed the pretentious Bruno home in Kelayres. The charge was the last against all defendants.

Joseph Bruno, in previous trials, was convicted of second degree murder and of manslaughter. Philip Bruno, his brother, was convicted on four counts of manslaughter. The others were found not guilty.

Coal Commission Member Is Known In Lawrence Co.

Percy Tetlow of Ohio, who was recently appointed a member of the new national bituminous coal commission and the companion coal labor board by President Roosevelt, is quite well known in New Castle.

Mr. Tetlow at the outbreak of the S. and A. American war was a resident of Leetonia, O., and enlisted in Company B, 16th regiment, of this city together with a number of his friends residing in Wampum. At that time he was a coal miner.

Mr. Tetlow has always taken an active part in miners' organization and was president of that organization for a time and has held numerous offices by election and appointment. He has also spent much time in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Tetlow is a warm personal friend of C. Ed Brown, N. Mill street, and with his wife has visited at the Brown home several times.

Three Small Fires Occur During Day

Little Damage Results From Blazes During Past Twenty-Four Hours

Firemen were called out three times during the past 24 hours for small blazes in various sections of the city.

At 6:05 last evening they were summoned to the home of Mont O'Neill at 509 W. North street, where some old matting in the cellar had caught fire.

At 6:45 this morning they were summoned to the railroad yards under the Gardner avenue viaduct, where hoboes sleeping held a box car had set fire to the floor. The damage amounted to approximately $5.

At 11:15 this morning an alarm from box 35 summoned firemen to Hutchman street, where a Ford truck belonging to William Hoon of 415 Hutchman street, had taken fire around the engine, due to a flash from the carburetor. There was no damage.

Jefferson County Grand Jury Finds Thirty-Five True Bills

(International News Service)
STEUBENVILLE, O., Sept. 24.—Among 35 true bills returned today by the Jefferson county grand jury was one indicting Benjamin Pugh, 32, of Bradley, O., on a charge of having killed Catherine Ortega, 38, as the latter appeared at the front door of his home here in July.

Robert Doyle, former city patrolman, was indicted for second degree manslaughter in the death of James Lawson, 31, who was riding in Doyle's car when it crashed into a gas station allegedly during a prank.

Barn Fire Loss Reported At $6,000

Fire, breaking out as threshing was in progress, swept recently through the barn on the George Biddle farm, west of New Wilmington, and left a loss of building and contents estimated at $6,000. No decision to rebuild has yet been made.

The flames, battled in vain by the New Wilmington fire department, consumed 50 tons of hay and many tons of straw as well as threshing machinery.

Playgrounds To Conclude Season

By the end of this week the playgrounds of the Works Progress Administration which have been running on an afternoon schedule since the start of school will be discontinued and the last of the RWD projects will have been wound up.

Some word is expected in the near future upon an educational program under the WPA which will include night classes in various centers of the county.

Cases On Trial At County Court

The case of Harry Wolfe, charged with receiving stolen goods, was taken up for trial before Judge R. L. Hildebrand at Lawrence county court this morning. Frank McCreary is prosecutor in the case.

The case of the commonwealth against Mike Dicks, charged with rape, was taken up for trial before Judge James A. Chambers.

Hold Conference On W.P.A. Program

All departmental heads of the Works Progress Administration were called into conference today by Director J. Vale Downie for the purpose of discussing the project setup that has been formulated in the past few weeks.

With more projects coming in and the probabilities that many more men will soon be at work, the detail of the organization is being worked out so that the various departments do not overlap and that each one performs its functions.

Private Agencies Must Plan To Resume Welfare Work Says President

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Declaring the task of taking care of the nation's unfortunates must get back into the hands of private welfare agencies, President Roosevelt on Monday told the 1935 mobilization of human needs conference that funds for support of private charity should come in great measure from those whose developments have created new problems in community life.

The responsibilities of private welfare services have become increasingly great as new problems have developed in community life," the president said. "Support of these services must come from those developments have accentuated community life. They owe the communities a very substantial sum of maintenance."

"Such gifts should be, and I am confident will be, based on the sound motives of serving those in the community who need all kinds of assistance."

Adds Social Workers
Mr. Roosevelt addressed the social workers from the south podium of the White House after a brief introduction by Gerard Swope, chairman of the conference.

The president pointed out that the federal government is withdrawing from the field of emergency home relief as rapidly as possible and substituting work relief as its contribution to the situation.

"The great mass of private employers realize today that they must help by offering employment to the utmost limit," Mr. Roosevelt asserted.

Purchasing Power Rises
The actual purchasing power of the masses has greatly risen in the last two years as a result of government stimulation. Mr. Roosevelt said, and "the nation is better able to take care of its unfortunates through charity today than at any time in the last six years."

The president urged support for all of the 351 campaigns for funds which are to be launched this fall. He said it was remarkable that since 1929 there has been but a 13 percent shrinkage in the amount of funds collected by private charity agencies.

"Let there be an advance this year," he said.

The executive pointed out that many of the tasks undertaken by private welfare services, such as young guidance, are far broader than relief, and represent a field of activity which the government cannot assume.

He called the conference's attention to the new social security board, which, under chairman John C. Winant, is about to undertake the great task of caring for the aged, and the needy widows and children.

"In the years to come that is going to be considered one of the greatest steps ever taken by the American people," Mr. Roosevelt declared.

The best efforts of both the government and private agencies are still needed to take care of the nation's unfortunates, even though the situation has improved of late, the president said.

Why should lobbyists bribe a Congressman when they can land the poor hick just by inviting him to a swell dinner.

Believes Steel Recovery Sure

Tom M. Girdler Sees Present Recovery As Real Thing

GIVES REASONS FOR HIS IDEAS

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service
Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—For the steel industry, the present recovery is the real thing.

That is the opinion of one of the outstanding leaders in that industry—Tom M. Girdler, president of Republic Steel.

He has come forward in this depression, whipping Republic into one of the most efficient and aggressive organizations in the steel industry and carving for himself a place as one of the Big Three in the industry.

The other two are Myron Taylor of U. S. Steel and Eugene G. Grace of Bethlehem Steel.

Girdler, in an exclusive interview, bases his optimism for steel on:

First, things made of steel, such as automobiles, plant equipment and countless other products have been worn out or have become obsolete, and Second, many new steels and new uses for steel have been developed and are widening markets.

"Great depressions," he pointed out, "always create an enormous demand, together with a huge reservoir of potential spending power and of unused capital for investment."

"That is the condition today, and it is one which is making recovery inevitable, although it has been hobbled and hampered by the New Deal tinkering with economic forces."

"There is now underway a wave of buying for re-equipment and rehabilitation. The extent of buying which is necessary for such purposes is graphically illustrated by the fact that according to the latest reliable estimates, 65 per cent of the country's metal working equipment is obsolete. This doubtless holds true also for many other types of equipment."

But it is on the new uses for steel, that Girdler bases his bullishness on the longer term outlook for his industry.

"The steel industry has been developing a host of new steels—tailor-made steels, specially adapted to special purposes," he said. "These are, of course, of vital importance to the industrial re-equipment program. But they are of still broader significance in that they open up to the steel industry vast new markets which the industry never had before. The new steel auto tops and canned beer are but two of the newest examples."

"The steel industry has been quietly but thoroughly preparing itself for the years ahead. The immediate outlook is favorable, and we anticipate, within a comparatively few years, a broader demand for steel than has ever been experienced in the history of the country."

Hospital Aid Payments Are Made By State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—Completing payments due for the last biennium checks totaling $861,414.31 have been mailed to general hospitals receiving state aid in Pennsylvania, Secretary of Welfare J. Evans Scheehle announced today.

The payments, Dr. Scheehle said, were made for the quarter ending May 31, 1935, and represent subsidy appropriations of the legislature for the 1933-35 biennium which were re-appropriated by the last general assembly.

Today's check, mailed to 148 institutions, bring the total paid out within the last 10 days to $1,578,463.

JAILED WHEN HE ASKS FOR HIS AUTO

(International News Service)

LAFFERTY, O., Sept. 24.—If your auto disappears with a cargo of contraband liquor aboard, just forget it. Frank Habeny, 53, inquired at the Belmont county jail in St. Clairsville, after his machine was driven away from a roadside parking place, and he was jailed. A federal dry agent had spotted two gallons of untaxed "moonshine" in it and Habeny was jailed on the theory that he was owner of the liquor.

Greater Gifts To Private Charity Needed In Nation

Gerard Swope Tells Social Workers, More Giving Is Necessary

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Corporations and every employed man and woman are able and must contribute more to private charity this year for the care of the destitute than was donated last year, Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Co., told President Roosevelt and a group of social workers Monday.

"It can be done," Swope assured the officials of the 35 national welfare and health organizations which sponsored the 1935 mobilization for human needs.

As chairman of the 1935 mobilization Swope said more money is needed this year to make up for the liquidation of some of the federal emergency relief programs and the government's aim to return back to the states and private charity the task of caring for the indigent.

In response to President Roosevelt's charge to American citizens, Swope said:

"Happily, we come amidst circumstances in our national economic life which seem more fortunate, more promising for the future, than at any time since presidential leadership was first given to this movement in 1931. The clouds which have surrounded us during these past years are undoubtedly lifting."

Swope also found a ray of sunshine in the so-called tax-the-thrift bill passed at the last session of congress—sunshine for the charitable organizations.

He said the tax bill "not only removes all obstacles which in the past made some corporations hesitant about their right to give, but recognizes their right to deduct these contributions from their taxable income, a right which individuals have had for many years."

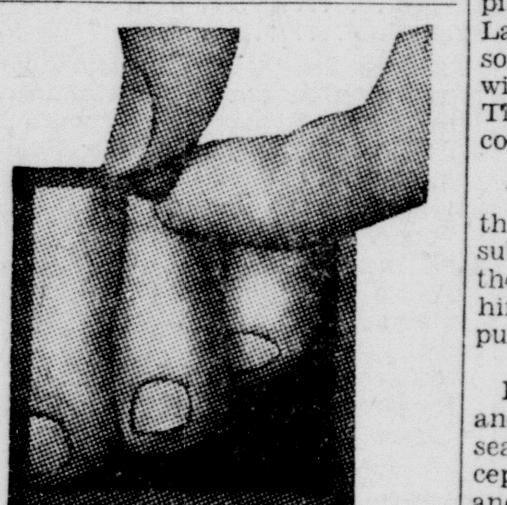

"So we may expect therefore, that corporations will give more generously to community chests this year than heretofore," Swope added.

Financial Ticket For Findlay Voters

(International News Service)

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 24.—Findlay voters will face a "financial" ticket at the November election designed to add 6.76 mills to the real estate tax duplicate in addition to a $47,000 relief bond issue, to be retired from the state's public utility excise tax.

The "ticket" includes a variety of complications. The city and county both are asking for two mills for one year to cover operation costs. City schools are asking to have the bonds voted outside the legal 10-mill limit.

Projected Memorial For Rogers Planned

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A national Will Rogers memorial commission today was working on plans to set up local community committees all over the nation so that everyone can have a hand in the projected memorial for the noted cowboy humorist.

In announcing the plans of the commission, vice president John Nance Garner, its chairman said:

"As chairman I am announcing the initial plans and the selection of some committees. Committees must later be set up throughout the country so that everyone can participate in the memorial."

Just where the memorial to Rogers will be placed has not been decided yet, according to Garner. Claremore, Okla., his home, and California, his adopted state, have been suggested. The vice president said, but other communities may want to honor his memory and that will depend on the amount of money raised.

However, in view of the decision of the city to conform to all the regulations of the WPA, indications are that the project will be approved. One of the duties which the chief of police has instructed officers to do every night a football game is held is to watch for persons who pilfer articles from automobiles. Last season police apprehended some boys who removed articles without the consent of the owners. The boys landed in junior police court.

Within the near future it is likely that Mayor Charles B. Mayne will submit to the WPA a plan whereby the Carnegie auditorium, given to him for the use of the city, will be put in condition for winter sports.

It is expected that there will be a big drop in revenue from the marriage license bureau after this week. The new marriage license law goes into effect on next Tuesday, October 1. After that date applicants for marriage license must wait three days from the time their applications are made until the licenses are granted or refused. This will mean that Ohio couples, who have been flocking here to secure licenses will likely head for West Virginia, where there is no such restriction. The Ohio business is estimated to have been worth from $1500 to $2000 per year to the marriage license bureau, to say nothing of the fees paid to ministers, aldermen and justices of the peace for tying the knot. Ohio's marriage license law is somewhat similar to that passed here, except that five days notice must be given. It is doubtful if the new Pennsylvania law will be of any material benefit, and it is certain to be considerable of a financial loss to the different counties, as many Pennsylvania couples will do like the Ohio couples have been doing, go outside of the state to secure their licenses.

some of them which gives the board a headache. The letters which seem to give the most trouble are "a" and "o," "u," and "n" as the two former and two latter are easily confused, even if the writing is fairly good. Some of the boards printed the names, which is a very good idea and makes it a lot easier for the persons who are to decipher them.

Among the first case on the common pleas trial list for the October term of court are Ben F. Black against C. W. and Eleanor Beerbower and the Beerbowers against Black. Black secured a verdict at a former trial, but the Beerbowers claim that a new witness has been discovered, whose testimony may throw a different light on the controversy. The case grew out of an auto accident on Wilmington Ave.

Will of the late Edgar Phillips, which has been probated at the office of the register and recorder, is one of the shortest ever placed on record here. It simply says, "After my death everything I own I leave to my wife, Laura." There can be no controversy over the ambiguity of a will like that. It is plain and to the point, and covers everything.

Thirty-seven instruments of all kinds were placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number eleven were deeds and seventeen were mortgages. Five of the mortgages were given to the Home Owners Loan corporation, and a majority of the others to building and loan associations.

BAER AND LOUIS ARE READY FOR BELL

Louis Favored To Defeat Max

Crowd Of 100,000 Expected To Pay $1,000,000 To See Fight

DEMPSEY MAY BE IN BAER'S CORNER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Go back to Reno and twenty-five years ago, the day when Jeffries and Johnson fought and held the headlines. Twenty-five years ago, no measure of this tremendous thing that is about to happen. Make it generations, centuries, eons; go back practically to the beginning of time and even then you'll find something innate, instinctive and older than civilization itself.

You'll find it again at the Yankee stadium tonight when Max Baer and Joe Louis are to do violence in an inter-racial prize fight before a record crowd of more than 100,000 contrive to make a pagan holiday of the kind that caused Nero to fiddle and Rome to burn. There is no championship at stake tonight, only the inborn feeling of the ages.

All Harlem is alive and ready to revel in the celebration it feels is ordained for this negro heavyweight whose face is so blank and whose punch so terrible. Twenty of the twenty-four white men he has faced in a little more than a year of professional fighting have been knocked out.

This morning, hotel public rooms looked like dormitories with strangers sleeping side by side. Tonight, the stadium will see 92,650, with the end hardly yet. They'll stand in the rear, they'll climb to pillars and supports. They'll do anything, pay anything to get inside.

Big Bets Made
In one corner will be the white man, Baer, good enough to win the heavyweight championship but not sensible enough to keep it. In the other, the solemn-faced negro, Louis, who may yet be great enough to take it. Baer, with the body of a god and the mind of a mountebank, lost the title in apparent jest a few months ago and now in anger would attempt to take it back. He's a strange mixture of greatness and puerility, a tremendous hitter with his right hand—when the spirit wills it.

But Louis hits tremendously with both and is at least 2 to 1 in the betting, with millions likely to change ownership on the result. These same millions have quoted him at a record "low" of 8 to 5 by a knockout inside the fifteen-round distance. A singular story, this colored boy from the Detroit auto plants who drinks and smokes not, neither does he smile. He's only 21 and he's to be married tonight some time after the fight, some say before.

Dempsey In Corner
Dempsey was scheduled to be in Baer's corner but last night was mulling something that sounded like a desire to take an "out." He indicated his displeasure about stories that linked him with a rumored desire by Baer to "play rough" tonight in the hope of stealing the show. Considering the nature of the assemblage, such a course might be reprehensible in the extreme.

Meanwhile, the gentleman himself has given no indication of his intentions. He arrived at the Grand Central looking a little grumpy after his ride from the training camp but otherwise seeming in excellent condition. He should be.

For this gift to the night clubs has lived the life of a recluse and an ascetic at the Speculator, N. Y., camp. He has trained so earnestly as to cause some to believe that his confinement will have a bad psychological effect upon one so ebullient. Still, the assumption is general that, if he can't win in the condition he's in, there will be nothing for it but to admit that he hasn't got it in him.

The only question remaining had to do with his right hand, which Pete Reilly, the fight manager, claimed had been injured last week. Perhaps this claim had something to do with the sudden "lift" in Louis stock from 8-5 to 2-1 and beyond, for Mr. Reilly, who likes to bet them, is not wholly without guile.

Terrible Performance
Actually, the 2-1 would seem justified, off Baer's last fight with James J. Braddock and the impressive record of Louis. Baer looked like the worst fighter in the world against Braddock. Louis has looked the part of the best in knocking out Primo Carnera and King Levinsky.

There have been those who ask, "Can Louis take it?" And well they might, for the colored boy hasn't had to. It is on the off chance that Baer might score with one of those thundering rights that prize-makers have made him a 4-1 to win by a knockout, but, as others sensibly point out, if he couldn't hit Braddock, how is he going to hit Louis?

They will meet for the first time shortly after noon at the scales of the boxing commission for the official weighing in, with Baer doing less than 210 pounds and Louis about 197. Doubtless their outward relations will be amicable enough, with the commission disposing of the situation as rapidly as possible.

After that, there will be nothing for it but to wait for the big moment.

Louis To Marry This Afternoon

Joe Louis-Marva Trotter To Answer Wedding Bells At 6 O'clock

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Approximately four hours before he answers the bell for his battle with Max Baer at the Yankee stadium, Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber of Detroit, will answer the bell for a vastly more important engagement.

At 6 o'clock, unless there's a last minute change in plans announced by the bride herself, Joe will hear the chiming of wedding bells. Marva Trotter, the pretty stenographer from Chicago, said this morning that she and Joe would become man and wife before the fight.

The ceremony, she revealed, will take place at the home of friends in the Bronx. The Rev. Walter Trotter, brother of the bride-to-be, will officiate; their sister, Novella, will be bridesmaid, and John Roxborough, the boxer's manager, probably will act as best man.

The comely girl's confidence the wedding would precede the stadium fistfights found no corroboration among Joe's handlers, however, they declared:

"There'll be no wedding until after the fight. We gotta keep our boy calm."

And they were so busy keeping Joe calm that Joe himself didn't get a chance to verify his fiancée's announcement.

The bride-to-be did succeed in talking with her boy friend by phone. However, and she's certain there'll be no hitch in the plans for the nuptials.

Max And Joe Scent Victory
"I'll Knock Him Out," Says Baer—"Ten Rounds At Outside" Says Louis

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—There's no doubt in the minds of either Max Baer or Joe Louis as to which of them is going to win tonight. Here's what they say about it this morning:

By Max Baer
"Joe Louis is in for the hardest fight of his career. I honestly bet. I'll knock him out. I am in perfect condition and hitting as hard as I ever did. I am going out to score a knockout in quick time, and if Louis nails me he is going to find that at last he has come across a fighter who can take it."

Jimmie Dime Selects Louis

Veteran Chieftain Of Good Fighting Men Favors Louis

OPINIONS FROM OTHER LOCALITIES

Jimmie Dime, veteran tutor, manager of boxers and a great 128 pounder himself in his early days, today picked Joe Louis to win from Max Baer, former world's heavyweight champion.

Dime has watched Louis career and thoroughly knows Baer's style and believes that when tonight's fracas is over the colored bomber from Detroit, will be up and Baer down.

Jimmie believes that the fight will only go a few rounds. George Chip, former world's middleweight champion and Tom McMahon, who fought the greatest fighters in his division a score years ago also pick Louis to win.

Ed. Fritz likes Louis, but gives Baer a chance to win, providing he goes out of his corner, starts punching and doesn't stop punching until someone drops.

Police Sergeant James Steiner favors Louis.

Phil Bridenbaugh, New Castle high coach, favors Louis to win.

Faculty Manager of New Castle high athletics, Ralph H. Gardner, also favors Louis.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—Larry French, the former Pittsburgh Pirate southpaw, is one of the main cogs in the Cubs' headlong dash toward the National League pennant.

The lean flinger even had to prey on his ex-mates Sunday for his eighteenth victory to keep Chicago's winning streak intact. And what a baseball laboratory that is Jimmy Wilson is running at Philadelphia.

He takes a third baseman and turns him into the pitcher Bucky Walters then boldly experiments with Pitcher Mulcahey in the outfield.

Upsets galore were strewn along the scholastic grid front after the week end's wars. Jimmy Russell's Donora Dragons and Allegheny being held to scoreless ties by Central Catholic of Pittsburgh and Rochester, respectively, were surprises but the major upset was seeing Little Jefferson high overwhelm the highly favored Waynesburg eleven, 30-0.

It's beginning to look like Glassport, class B WPAL champs, are mis-stationed in their present loop.

The scrappy gladiators trounced the second class AA Club on successive Saturdays when they blanked Clairton, 12-0. McKeesport was the first double-A team to feel their wrath. Eddie Gullian, former basketball coach at Ashland H. scouted the Shenandoah-Frackville high fracas as a possible source for some timber for his Shippensburg College grid squad.

He hardly went to the wrong place when one considers the bang-up play the teams put up, especially Frackville.

THOMAS REPORTS WARREN BIG TEAM

Filbert Nocera, Diminutive End, Jams Shoulder; May Not Start

With a hot summery sun beating down on the greensward of Taggart stadium, an energetic group of schoolboy gridders, representing New Castle high, went through a light workout, Monday afternoon in preparation for one of the toughest games of the season, Friday evening, under the floodlights of Taggart stadium, when the undefeated Red Hurricane dashes on the field to oppose Warren high.

Yesterday's workout consisted mostly of signal drills. This afternoon Coach Bridenbaugh will send his warriors through the first of a series of intensive drills in preparation for the contest with the strong Ohioans. New Castle came out of the Butler tilt with only one casualty, Filbert Nocera, South Side diminutive end, one of the reasons why the Red and Black machine scored such a decisive triumph over Butler, jammed his shoulder, and will likely wage the game from the bench. An X-ray, which was taken Saturday, showed no bones were broken. Adam Krezo or Dominick Covelli will start at right end.

The remainder of the squad is in good condition. Dom DeCaprio, who has been suffering with his legs, not enough to keep him out of the lineup, stated Monday that he is in good shape.

Warren Is Big
"Gig" Thomas, assistant coach, who watched Warren defeat a powerful Erie Academy eleven, last week, reported that "The Hill coach combination is well balanced. He predicts one of the most exciting gridiron battles enacted at Taggart stadium in years."

The Warren team lost no time in commencing to drill for the New Castle fracas, reports state.

Warren will come here bent on avenging for that surprise 7-0 defeat last year.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is making arrangements to accommodate one of the biggest crowds in several years here. It is believed that the attendance will be greater than it was in Warren. Close to 7,500 spectators watched the two teams battle last year.

The New Castle high gridders, attired in neat bright red uniforms, forgot football for a few minutes Monday, long enough to pose for pictures.

Franklin Trims Union Reserves

Ben Franklin Scores Impressive 26-0 Victory On Monday Afternoon

SEVERAL HUNDRED WATCH FAST GAME

Monday afternoon at Taggart stadium, before several hundred spectators, 11 schoolboys flaunting the colors of Ben Franklin junior high, opened the 1935 grid season by romping off the field with a 26-0 triumph over the Union Township Reserves.

The contest was filled with thrills. After being held scoreless in the opening period, Franklin came thru with its first touchdown when Maciarello ran seven yards on a reverse. Later in the period, Ryan tossed a beautiful pass to Russos, who camped under it, took it and ran 30 yards for a touchdown. The score at the half, Franklin 13, Reserves 0.

Early in the third quarter, Maciarello intercepted a Union pass on his own 25-yard chalk mark and raced the remaining 75 yards for the third touchdown. Again in the fourth period, Ryan intercepted a Union pass in mid-field and zigzagged his way through the entire Reserve team and carried the oval over the line for the final score.

Sowinski played a bangup game at end for Ben Franklin. Mrozek, Ostrosky and Harry were outstanding for Union.

The lineup follows:
Ben Franklin 25 Union Reserves 0
Russos L. E. Heckert
Johns L. T. Ostrosky
Costello L. G. Bowers
Moses C. Harry
Cleinfelter R. G. Snelzek
Makhill R. T. Bentley
Sowinski L. E. Leisure
Noga Q. B. McGrew
Maciarello L. H. Guinbaugh
James R. H. Mrozek
Ryan F. B. Witowitz

Score by quarters:
Union 0 0 0 0—0
Franklin 0 13 7 6—26

Substitutions—Franklin, Richards, Burelli, McCracken, Pebbles, Motoski, Miloszewski, Santangelo, Thompson, Tusciano, Colechia, Searazoo, Bombyk, Cereell, Union—Navarra, Nell, Rudessil, Clazza, J. Kolon.

IGOE LIKES MAXIE BAER

Thinks Baer Is Too Big For Joe; Maxie Is Damaging Puncher

By HYPE IGOE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Before the stroke of midnight the great interrogation which hovers over Max Baer and Joe Louis will have been cleared away. We'll know by then whether or not the "bomber" can hit hard enough to flatten the Livermore Lulu for the first time in his career or if he can "take" all that Baer has.

For my part, I am firmly convinced that Baer is too big for Joe, has too great a reach, is a more damaging puncher in his own way and can take them on the chin just as nonchalantly as Jack Dempsey ever did. I do believe that Max can take Joe's hardest sock and laugh it off.

Baer is a far better fighter than Baer of the Braddock nightmare. He didn't fight a lick in that affair and even he can't explain why. He'll be the Baer of the Schmeling and Carnera fights when he walks to the center to face Louis in the Yankee Stadium before the greatest New York "money house" since Firpo and Dempsey and Dempsey and Sharkey.

If Baer comes to Louis in the first round with all the fury he displayed when he ripped into Schmeling and Carnera, it might be a short fight.

All Stars Top Catholic Team

South Side All Stars defeated the Catholics in the fifth and deciding contest of a series for the South Side baseball title, 10-8, in a fast game played on the B. & O. field.

The score was deadlocked until the ninth, when Galardo stepped to the plate and blasted a homer with one teammate on the bags. Romeo Casella, south side sports follower, coached the All Stars.

The summary: R. H. E.
All Stars 202 001 302—10 14 1
Catholics 110 102 210—8 11 2
Batteries—Catholics, Gebbia, Marto and DeCavrio; All Stars, Del Ross, Copple and Greco.

Fair Weather For Big Fight

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Even the weather bureau has gotten into the spirit of the thing. In response to Promoter Mike Jacobs' query as to what to expect in the way of weather for the Baer-Louis fight tonight, the bureau wired:

"Fair and warmer. Lots of stars. Hope you turn them away."

Can Change Ticket For Reserved Seat

Starting with Friday night's game at Taggart stadium, any person buying a general admission ticket and then desiring to exchange it for a reserved seat, may do so at the south entrance of the concrete stands, Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, stated today.

This has never been done before, Gardner said today.

Pirates Beat Cardinals, 12-0

Boston Braves Score First Victory Of Season Over Giants, 9-7

CARDS BEHIND BY 3 1/2 GAMES

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—When the Boston Braves beat the Giants in the final game of yesterday's double-header at the polo-grounds, they accomplished something they have been unable to do all season. Dropping the first game, 3 to 2, the Braves merely conformed to custom. In the nightcap, however, the Braves started themselves and the weary Terrymen by copping, 9 to 7, when they scored two runs in the ninth frame.

In the opener, Carl Hubbell held the visitors to six hits, winning the contest despite a five-hit performance by Ed Brandt. Frank Frankhouse was the miracle man in the second game, who, with a little last-inning aid from Bob Smith, held the Giants to 11 bingles and bested Frank Gabler.

At Philadelphia, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Phils, losing the opener, 4 to 2, and taking the second game, 8-4. The Cardinals' pennant hopes sagged badly at St. Louis, where the Pittsburgh Pirates clubbed them, 12 to 0.

In the only American league contest, the Yankees, behind 7 hit pitching by Vernon Gomez, the portside Castilian walloped the Senators at Washington, 5 to 1.

Trailing 6-0 as the end of the game neared, the Catholic grid team opened up with an uncanny variety of plays which resulted in a touchdown and a victory, 7-6, over the Shenango eleven, in a fast game played on the Rosena grounds.

Turco hurled a perfect pass to Pinky Amobile, who raced 30 yards for a touchdown for the Catholics. Turco fought his way through center for the extra point. Nick Cagnetta scored for Shenango on a 50-yard jaunt down the field. Leo Orelli, star halfback for the Catholics, was injured in the last quarter.

This afternoon at 4:30 o'clock the Catholics will practice. Mulligan Yerage is coach.

Washington Team Looks Impressive

Coach Carroll Sets New Fad; Drills Football Team In Early Morn

If pre-season showing in practices means anything in football, Coach Dan "King" Carroll's George Washington high team promises to be one of the smoothest functioning gridiron machines in junior high circles here this season.

Carroll is trying a new method of training his team. Every morning at 7:30 o'clock, one can pass by the North Hill greenward and see flying footballs. It's the George Washington team hard at work.

Some of Washington's outstanding candidates include "Hard Rock" MacNeill, "Bullet" Chambers, McCormick, Pasqualino and Jack and Jim McClafferty, all linemen. Mr. Hawk, who dons a uniform and scrimmages with the team, is coaching the line. Jimmy Howley is also helping to coach. "Cowboy" Carey, a six-foot schoolboy, is battling for the center post.

In the backfield, "Bronco" Seegar, another six-foot lad who boots the ball over the 50-yard mark, is one of the brightest prospects on the roster. "Five-Yard" Dewberry and "Flash" Kelly look impressive in the backfield. "Sleepy" Maloney and "Speed" Miller are two capable backfield gridders.

Coach Carroll expects to have one of the most powerful teams in the history of the school.

Expect Big Crowd At Friday's Game

Gardner Explains Reason For Change Of Price In Warren Game

When New Castle high and Warren lineup for the kick-off under the lights of Taggart stadium Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock, it is predicted that one of the largest gathering of fans in several years will be on hand to watch the rival schoolboy gridiron machines meet for the second time.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner announced today that Warren supporters will occupy the west side steel bleachers. Admission to this section will be only by a special coupon. Warren has also reserved a large block of 75 cent seats in addition to the bleachers.

The press box section seats will be on sale for 75 cents; all other seats will be the same price as in previous games. Because of a two-year contract with Warren school officials, the price of the pasteboards will be slightly higher, Gardner stated.

The News, advises New Castle fans to put in their reservation early for the Warren game, to be assured of a good seat.

Gardner requests New Castle fans to display the highest possible hospitality. The Warren citizens received the New Castle delegation last year, very hospitably.

BOWLING

BEAVER-LAWRENCE LEAGUE

Last week the opening guns were fired in the Beaver-Lawrence County Ten Pin League, with the outlook for a good season being excellent. All the rumors coming in from the western ten pin centers that the new pins, with much larger bottoms and the deeper gutters would effect the scores in general, was fairly well amplified, for a glance at the scores plainly indicates that the stars of the circuit had troubles a plenty. The changes made have a tendency to give the bowler just what he "hits" for and has eliminated the chance of lucky "breaks" on poor hits to a great degree.

Union Prepares For Evans City

Friday afternoon at Evans City, Pa., Coach Dave Boyd's Union township gridders will face a tough opponent when the Scotland Lancers line-up against Evans City high.

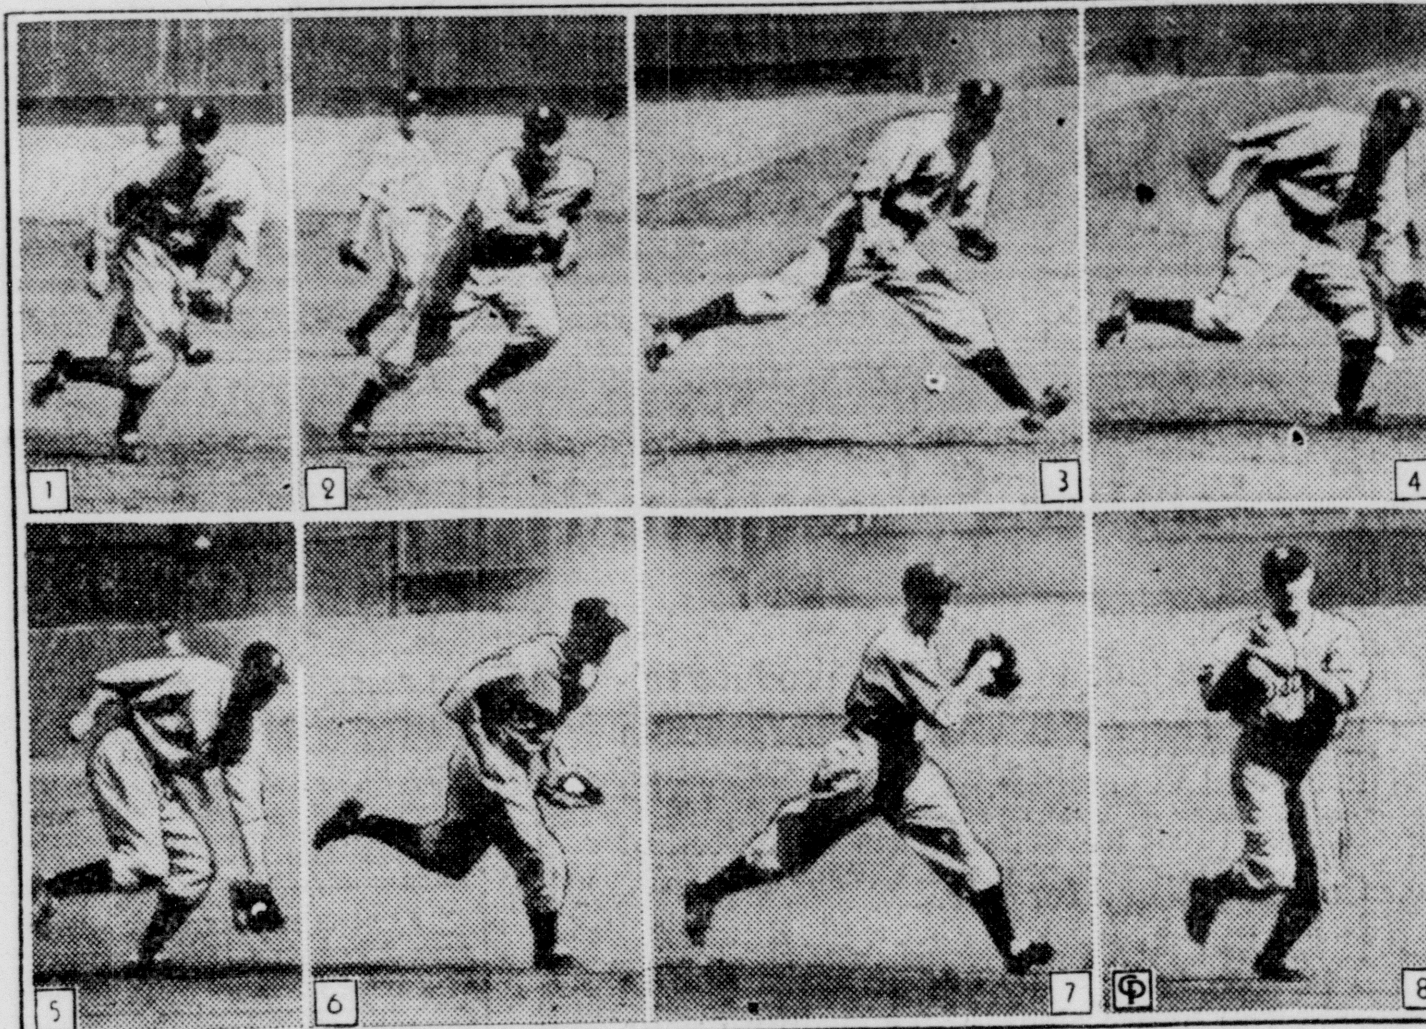

Last week, Evans City showed strength in toppling Shenango high. Coach Boyd is trying to work out some kind of system to stop Kauffman, Evans City backfield man, who is one of the most elusive backs in Class B ranks in the district. Union will start the same lineup that won over Mars, last Friday.

Dempsey May Be In Baer's Corner

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, early today was undecided as to whether or not he would act as Max Baer's second tonight in his fight with Joe Louis.

Dempsey, who recently obtained a second's license, and was reported as planning to be in Max's corner for the fight, said he would not make any final decision on the matter until he had spoken again with Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager.

GEHRINGER, GREATEST SECOND BASEMAN, IN ACTION

Magic Eye camera captures the smooth and graceful action of Charlie Gehringer, second baseman of the pennant-winning Detroit Tigers, as he dashes to his left to scoop up a potential two-base hit and convert it into a putout. Note how perfectly Gehringer, who is called the "greatest since Lajoie", times his catch and continues in an unbroken motion to throw to first.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jack Thompson, Southern Hills club, Youngstown, romped off with the solo prize when he paced a field of 23 with an aggregate score of 142, four shots under par, at Cambridge Springs yesterday. The Ohio six man team defeated a team from western Pennsylvania 888 to 902. New York forfeited its team chances because of not having a full squad available.

Fifteen million dollar boxing gate in eight years will be realized at New York tonight when Max Baer, former champion of heavyweights, and Joe Louis, Detroit phenom, clash in a bout scheduled to go 15 rounds. Louis' sensational rise has caught the fancy of the fans and with Baer, the Clubber, as an opponent the fans will unlock the rubber band on their bankrolls.

Tonight's fight is difficult to figure, first, because Baer fought in a ribble bout with Jimmy Braddock, and second, no one knows if Joe Louis can assimilate punishment like Baer can hand out. So far Louis has never had to take it, excepting during his preliminary days when he got off the floor to win several fights.

Opinion favors Louis. Most of the men high in boxing favor him to score Baer away. However, there are some who believe that Max, angered over his poor fight with Braddock and his loss of popularity, which he so dearly loves, will put up the fight of his life and come through a winner. The fight is apt to end quickly.

The writer believes Baer has a chance to win if he leaves his corner a la Jack Dempsey and doesn't stop tossing punches until someone drops. He has a jaw of granite and may catch Louis' jaw on the end of one of his long punches. If Louis can step inside his swings and jolt Baer dizzy with short punches he may pave the way as he has done in the past for a knockout.

Should the battle go the limit, chances of which it won't, Louis should win the decision. Louis is a much better boxer and more polished hitter than Baer. Baer is a wild, swinging, club-like puncher who made his greatest fight with Schmeling. He was viciousness personified and slaughtered Schmeling. It took him longer to finish Primo Carnera.

There are some who believe that Max could have polished off Primo quicker than 11 rounds had Baer not clowned. On the other hand, Louis went to work in a crafty manner and knocked out the big Italian quicker than Schmeling. One thing to be remembered is it was Baer who softened the chins of both Carnera and Kingfish Levinsky for Louis.

Baer is weak around the midriff. It is there that Louis will start to work, providing Baer doesn't rush from his corner and force Louis to slug back—which Jack Blackburn, Louis' manager, will advise against. Joe will probably try to hurt Baer around the stomach to chin. Baer's over with a punch to chin. Baer's hope is a rushing, slambang fight with no clowning.

Bessemer Will Meet Zelenople

Bessemer high school's next grid opponent will be Zelenople high, Friday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, on the Bessemer high field.

Coach Fredericks will spend considerable time smoothing those rough spots he observed in the Bessemer-Grove City contest which the Cement City eleven lost, last Saturday.

Wrestling Champ Defeats Browning

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Danno O'Mahoney, of Ireland world heavyweight wrestling champion, today had successfully defended his title in a finish match with Jim Brown, former title-holder, at Madison Square Garden, with a flying tackle and body slam in 46:29.

Cubs Manager Gives Viewpoint On Crucial Series With Cardinals

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—"We may be a bunch of humpty dumplings on the wall, but when we fall this time we're going to fall very hard on the Cardinals."

With an arrogance born of eighteen consecutive victories, this today was the fate Charlie Grimm, manager of the amazing Cubs, predicted for the "Me and Paul" Dean boys and the Cardinals in that five-game series, beginning tomorrow, which is to determine which of the teams is going to cut in on the world series swag.

"We're a cinch to win at least two of those games," Grimm continued, "and I wouldn't be surprised if we won all of them, but all we'll need is two."

YORK COUNTY HAS FALSE TEETH CROP

(International News Service) YORK, Pa., Sept. 24.—Production figures show that York county last year produced 25,900,950 false teeth, enough to equip 809,404 people with complete sets of 32 teeth each.

Furthermore, had they all been men, each could have received 539 cigars if the county's 439,056,000 cigar production had been divided among them.

In addition, the mythical possessors of the new teeth, could have been given 12 pounds of pretzels, two pounds of candy, and 20 ice cream cones each from York county plants.

"Roofing the tree" custom observed

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—"Roofing the tree" an old English custom of celebrating the near-completion of a house, was observed by Frank G. Royce, of Chestnut Hill, when workmen finally got the roof beams of his new home in place.

Royce called the dozen laborers together, ordered work suspended and served copious quantities of beer and sandwiches. The workmen returned the compliment by toasting Royce and the contractors.

BITS ABOUT FOOTBALL

By BILL BRAUCHER

Central Press Sports Writer

THE ROSTER of Coach Hunk Anderson's North Carolina State Wolfpack contains more charm names than any other of the seven million received thus far from college publicity writers.

All-American candidates at the North Carolina school are Ryneke, Kubisa, Piloseno, Sabol, Cara, Acia, Kuzma, Kareiva, Weitlauf, Berlin, Chiemlego, Futeranski, Siniscalchi, Mastrolia, Moeszinger and Gadd.

You almost wonder how a coach keeps his cast of characters properly identified in his own mind when they wear such names as these. Numbers on the backs of uniforms are a great help in such cases. Maybe Hunk keeps in condition during the off season by reading Tolstoy.

YALE HAS A GUARD this year named John Harvard Castle. . . . you are familiar, of course, with Bill Shakespeare of Notre Dame, who is expected to be one of Notre's brightest stars this year.

Tom Thumb no longer walks 'neath Columbia's classic elms, but a quarterback named George Furey, brother of the other two Columbia Fureys, strides there now.

ARMY HAS ANOTHER KOPCSAK, brother of the famous end of two years ago. . . . his name is Arpad, he's a fullback, and has letters won at Carnegie Tech to prove it. . . . Over at Annapolis, another family line is continued. . . . one of the new backs is Ingram, fresh from the Plebes, son of Jonas Ingram, who won immortality as a Navy fullback.

HERE'S THE PITT ROSTER—let's look inside and see what kind of people Mentor Jock Sutherland is directing this year. . . . What's this? a running guard by the name of Dante Talle-Tezze? a mistake somewhere is going to present "Cavalier Rusticana" instead of playing at football.

A BRIEF PEEP at the Carnegie Tech array turns up still another Kopsak, this one's front handle being Coleman. . . . a brother of the others. . . . Tech has a nice name at guard—Mr. Nestor Henrion. . . . one of the Carnegie tackles is named Sutherland, so naturally they call him Jock.

GOING OUT TO DRAKE, one is struck at once by the name My Ubl. . . . wasn't there a My Ubl at Minnesota? . . . and this is the same My Ubl, it happens. . . . at Minnesota My Ubl was shelved by injuries. . . . so he is continuing the pursuit of an education at Drake. . . . an old major leaguer returning to the minors.

MOST EFFICIENT X-RAY MACHINE

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 24.—Said to be the most efficient machine of its type ever developed, a 200,000-volt X-ray unit has been installed in West Jersey Homeopathic hospital here.

who has knocked out 20 out of 24 men in a bit more than a year, left his Pompton Lakes camp this morning with camp attaches raising a cheer in the dust that followed the cavalcade. The colored fighter, apparently calm and unimpressed amid the furore of the occasion, was even less communicative than usual, except to deny that he intended to marry Marva Trotter before the fight. The wedding, it seemed, probably would take place in Harlem tomorrow.

Marriage As Celebration

Up there, where the colored population was augmented by racial additions from all parts of the country, the marriage was fully expected to be a celebration of Louis' victory over the white man. The streets and pool halls were alive at an early hour at which time some anxious glances were directed toward the weather which remained clear but somewhat chilly. There was no sign of disorder.

Downtown before fight headquarters the mad, merry scramble for tickets persisted, especially with special trains and busses bringing new customers from distant cities. In the face of this last minute rush, Promoter Mike Jacobs let it be known that he had some 5,000 additional tickets to dispose of. But a check with his box office men revealed that these were for standees.

Standing Room Taken

Most of the standing room in the lower stand had already been taken care of, they said. The new standing room section was in the mezzanine. It also developed that the final ringsides sold yesterday were back behind row 50, which is approximately back behind canarse.

New York, in other words, had never before seen such a crowd. It may run as high as 105,000 before the end is reached, thus displacing the Tunney-Dempsey fight at Chicago as the second greatest in point of attendance. The top in this direction was their Philadelphia fight, which packed in more than 120,000.

The fight tonight, however, will break all non-championship records for attendance and money, with possibly as much as $1,300,000 in the coffers when the final count is made. Baer and Louis each will draw 30 percent of the net receipts, that, no matter what happens, the victim will be able to buy enough amica.

Baer On Small End?

The odds say the latter will be Baer, with literally millions of dollars riding on the result, making this the biggest betting fight in history. The rumor of Baer's injured hand and his grotesque defense of the heavyweight championship against James J. Braddock a few months ago have combined, Louis' unique record, to make the colored fighter an outstanding choice. He was 8 to 5 to score a knockout before the end of fifteen rounds, the shortest price on record, in this respect. Baer was held at 4 to 1 for a knockout over Louis.

However, if the white man was worried, he didn't show it as he left his hotel at seven this morning for a brisk walk in Central Park. He returned, accompanied by his retinue, in about an hour and ate a sparing breakfast, after which he retired to his quarters.

Louis went through light exercises at Pompton Lakes and left for the weighing in around 10:30, with a police escort. Meanwhile, $100 was being considered a plausible price for tickets within the first fifteen rows. As for the general admissions, they were supposed to go on sale today but the promoter yielded to the clamor yesterday and was wiped out of these in less than an hour.

Pal Forces Rogers Defense Change

William J. Kelley, movie-cameraman friend of H. H. Rogers, Jr. (shown, left, arriving with Rogers and Rogers' mother at court), surprises defense by indicating that Claud Battin, farmer who had been counted on as a star witness for Rogers, wasn't in position to see what was going on in the living room of Rogers farm house near West Chester, Pa., the night Evelyn Hoey, actress, died. When David Warfield Became Star By Acting Roles of Old Gentlemen

MANY FAMOUS actors and actresses are best remembered for their acting in some particular roles during their tenure on the stage. Such is the case with David Warfield. A celebrated actor of the early years of the twentieth century, Warfield won his greatest prominence as a leading American player of comedy by his mastery in portraying a kindly old gentleman who is amusingly eccentric and is pathetic in misfortune. Two plays in which he became famous for that type of role were "The Music Master" and "The Return of Peter Grimm." Warfield's early success, however, came through his acting in "The Auctioneer," which he played 1,400 times. Born in San Francisco in 1866, Warfield started his theatrical career as an usher. After making his first stage appearance in 1888, he went to New York, where he was "discovered" by David Belasco, under whose management he reached stardom.

When Milady's Ears Were Brought Into Open After Fashion Held Them in Hiding for Years

By M. O. CHENOWETH

Central Press Staff Writer

SIMILAR TO the ankle, which for many years never saw the light of day in public, milady's ears at one time had a place among the unknowns. Ears were taboo, as far as fashion was concerned, and there was a popular opinion that the pink shells were not very pretty to look at. So, the ear had only one purpose—auditory—but how it ever was able to function behind the mass of hair and "rats" fashionable in those days never was explained. Then, after woman's suffrage was achieved in the United States, along came an emancipation in milady's fashions. About 1922 fashion mustered up the courage to decree that ears be removed from hiding and brought out into the open. One of the first to adopt the new style was Mrs. A. D. Donnelly, of New York, who was quoted in newspapers back in 1922 as saying: "From now on, ears is ears." And sure then ears have been displayed freely.

St. Michael's Church Celebrating 25 Years Of Service In City

Celebrating twenty-five years of service to the Slovak people in New Castle, St. Michael's church at the corner of Moravia street and Miller avenue is holding jubilee services all this week. On Sunday the celebration will reach its peak with religious services and a banquet.

The missions this week are being held by the Slovak Franciscan fathers. Sunday morning at 10:30 a solemn high mass will be observed with the sermon in the Slovak language by Rev. Armand Kopac, O. F. M., the celebrant. Rev. Joseph Vrhunec, the deacon, Rev. Vincent V. Stancelski, the sub-deacon, Rev. Paul Gulka, O. F. M., and the master of ceremonies, Rev. George W. Malinak.

Interesting History

The history of the Slovaks and their church activities in New Castle is an interesting one. It includes service and sacrifice, faith and hope, and always a devout reverence for God. Back in 1893 there was a sufficient number of Slovak immigrants in New Castle to justify the establishment of the I. K. S. J. c 117. The names of the first three families were as follows: George Kioos, Michael Opsalik and John Komarc. They attended St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church at that time.

Later on the following organizations were established. The Penn Catholic Jednota for men, No. 89, under the patronage of St. Michael the Archangel; Ladies Jednota, No. 100, under the patronage of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary; the Penn Catholic Jednota for Ladies No. 70, of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary the Catholic Sokol No. 22; Wreath of Catholic Sokol No. 24, under the patronage of St. Michael.

Organized Parish

On August 16, 1908, the Rev. Francis Egers and A. S. Green began to organize the new Slovak parish. At this gathering were 107 Roman Catholic men. On August 26, 1908, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Canevin sent the Rev. James Vrhunec as assistant pastor to Rev. Father Eger. Through the kindness of Father Eger it was brought about that Father Vrhunec had Holy Mass for the Slovak people on the second and fourth Sundays of the month. Later on, through the efforts of A. S. Green and Joseph Klamar, Father Vrhunec became the first pastor of St. Michael's Slovak church.

In 1909 ground for the new church was bought and paid for but plans were postponed and Father Vrhunec left New Castle in 1909. In May, 1910, plans for the building party in honor of Mrs. J. B. Kerr on Friday morning when the ladies arrived during the planned absence of the honored guest. Quilting was the main diversion and at noon the guests were invited to the dining room where they found a table laden with delicious food and laid for nine. After the dinner quilting and a social time was enjoyed throughout the afternoon. The guests were Mrs. Charlotte Anderson, Mrs. John Carlson, Mrs. Earl Glasgow, Mrs. James R. Chaney and Miss Nellie Chaney and the hostesses.

Coin Club Meets In Hawkins Home

Insight Into Conditions In Abyssinia Given By Dr. Sowash

Members of the New Castle Coin Club were entertained in the home of E. B. Hawkins, of Moody avenue, curator of the club, last evening, with a fair attendance of the members.

Guest members present included Dr. Sowash, of New Wilmington; H. G. Gibbs, of Pittsburgh; and Sam Cabelo, of Youngstown.

Dr. Sowash gave an interesting talk on Abyssinia, its people, and customs, and displayed coins from the different districts in Africa, while Mr. Gibbs displayed coins and charms from Africa.

Mr. Hawkins displayed his interesting collection of large cents, which include several hundred different specimens.

The next meeting will be open to the public and it is planned to serve refreshments.

At the close of last evening's gathering, Mrs. Hawkins, assisted by her daughters served delicious refreshments.

Hoey Inquest May End Today

Nine Witnesses Remain In Mysterious Shooting Of Blonde Beauty

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Sept. 24.—The prolonged jury inquest into the death of Evelyn Hoey, musical comedy actress, may end today, it was indicated in official circles here.

Nine remaining witnesses in the mysterious shooting of the blonde beauty 10 days ago were expected to take the stand when the session, postponed from last night because of the "illness of two jurors", reconvenes this afternoon.

That the six jurors may reach a decision today in the girl's death at the country home of Henry Huddleston Rogers, III, was seen in an announcement by District Attorney William E. Parke that "we will let nothing interfere."

Originally continued to tonight after the two jurors were reported "indisposed," resumption of the inquest was moved up to an earlier meeting when Rogers' attorneys protested the delay.

Included among witnesses to be called today were Dr. B. F. Davis, county medical examiner, and Dr. William Wadsworth, Philadelphia, who performed autopsies on Miss Hoey's body for the district attorney's office and Rogers' family respectively, and Charles Dunlap, finger print expert who examined the death gun.
